Chris, looks like its time to come for another year to summer to an end + another too had Photography was our only class together, but you were tied Chris. Well you better graduate someday down the line + until then you take care of yourself and don't party too much!! Have a real summer
 Love, Brent

Hope you and Todd get along better in the future. Hope to see ya next year. Good luck over the summer. And please get a tan so I don't have to tease you about being white. Let it be a warning and going to be a very dark person next year or don't be surprised if you still look white compared to me. Love Kevin

To my Darling Chris
I am so glad we became close this year. You pulled me through a bad time with John and I'll never forget that! I hope your future turns out bright and sunny because you deserve it. Don't let anyone push you into something you don't want to do, meaning Todd! There are billions and trillions of other fish in this sea. Remember that. Good luck on your search for the right person. You never know, you may have already found him (Todd) I hope we always remain good friends.

Love ya lots

Elections affect U.S.

This year was filled with many events that had an impact either patriotically or economically on the U.S.

An event arousing patriotism was the summer Olympics in Los Angeles. Even though 44 nations boycotted, many of the athletes had tough competition. The U.S. won 141 medals, 83 of them gold. The Olympics was topped off by extravagant opening and closing ceremonies. This year the Olympics was paid for by many large companies and private donators.

The U.S. was affected economically by the presidential elections. Representing the Democrats were ex-vice president Walter Mondale and running mate, Geraldine Ferraro. Representing the Republicans were President Ronald Reagan and Vice President George Bush. The race was opened by the Democratic convention in August in San Francisco. The Republican convention was in Dallas, Texas. Here Ronald Reagan kicked off his campaign for re-election. The two candidates held two debates.

Students, staff . . . work together . . .

There's no stoppin' us! That certainly is true for this school year. As the student body gathered for the 1984-85 school year, there were many additions including a 300 student rise from the 1983-84 school year's student body of 1,500.

Friends and especially working together are what makes the Paradise Valley student body so terrific.

The student body gathers at various intervals of the day. Lunch time is the major class for friends to gather and enjoy the spare time.

The spirit and pride produced at P.V. is never ending. Not just the athletes, musicians, artists and actors produce school spirit but the whole campus, from student council selling spirit ribbons to the drama department selling bagels.

Many clubs also produce spirit. The band plays at every home football and basketball game. They also played at the Arizona State Fair and the Phoenix Suns game. Thanks to the band, the school has much spirit at games and assemblies.

The bands are not the only performing art section to promote school spirit. The drama department performs two major plays through the year, one play in the spring and the other in the fall. Concert choir also presents many outstanding concerts through the year.

Working together is what makes the Paradise Valley student body the best there is!

Jimmy Petty, Mike Domstead and Charlie Schafer relax during lunch.

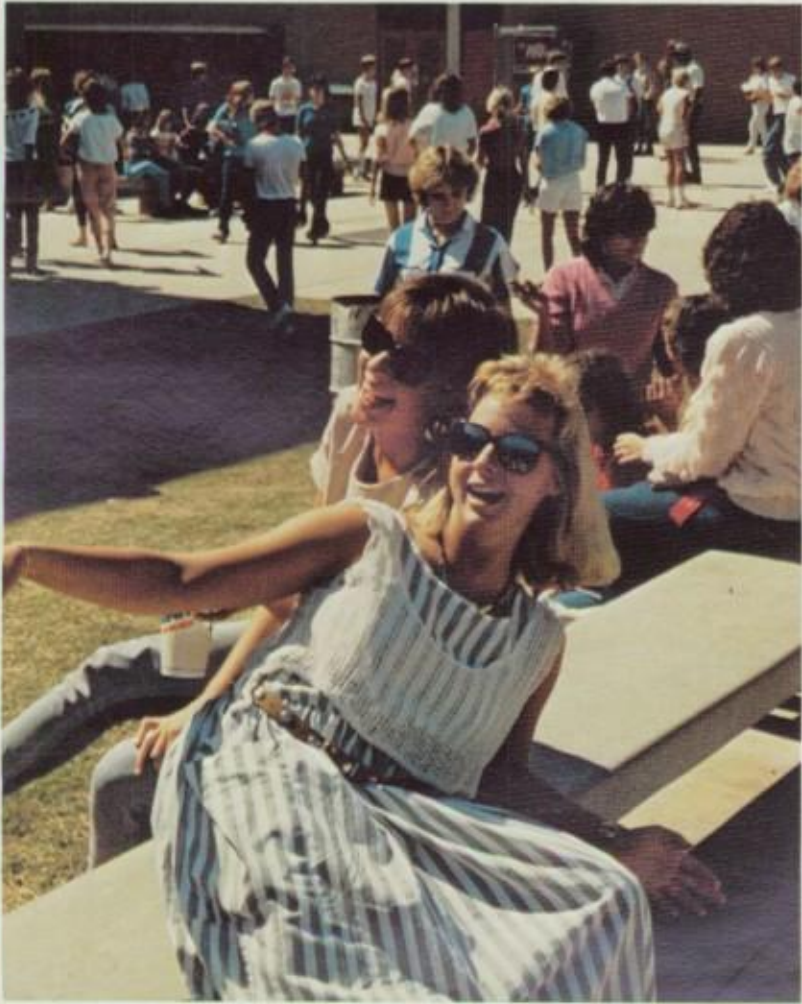

This year Horizon and Shadow Mountain students went to classes on our campus.

The football announcer's box expresses the pride the school has in the Trojans.

Construction workers work on the school's new auditorium, putting us ahead of schedule.

Students patiently wait in line to be served at the snack bar.

Students walk past PV's new auditorium.

The painting of the Ramada added a nice change to our campus.

During the past few years, we have all seen our school going through changes. In fact, the school that the freshmen of this year see is far different from that which our seniors attended. With the addition of Trojan Hall last year and the auditorium this year, our school is now unequalled.

The construction of the auditorium began Feb. 5, 1984, with the destruction of the 700 building. According to construction supervisor, Sam Trent, "This auditorium is of better quality than the ones at Shadow Mountain and Horizon." The cost has been estimated at about 3 million dollars and was scheduled to be completed on time in 1985.

The auditorium will be the new location for the plays that the students produce.

Senior Sherri Frantz spoke of the auditorium enthusiastically. She said, "I think it gives our school a better image."

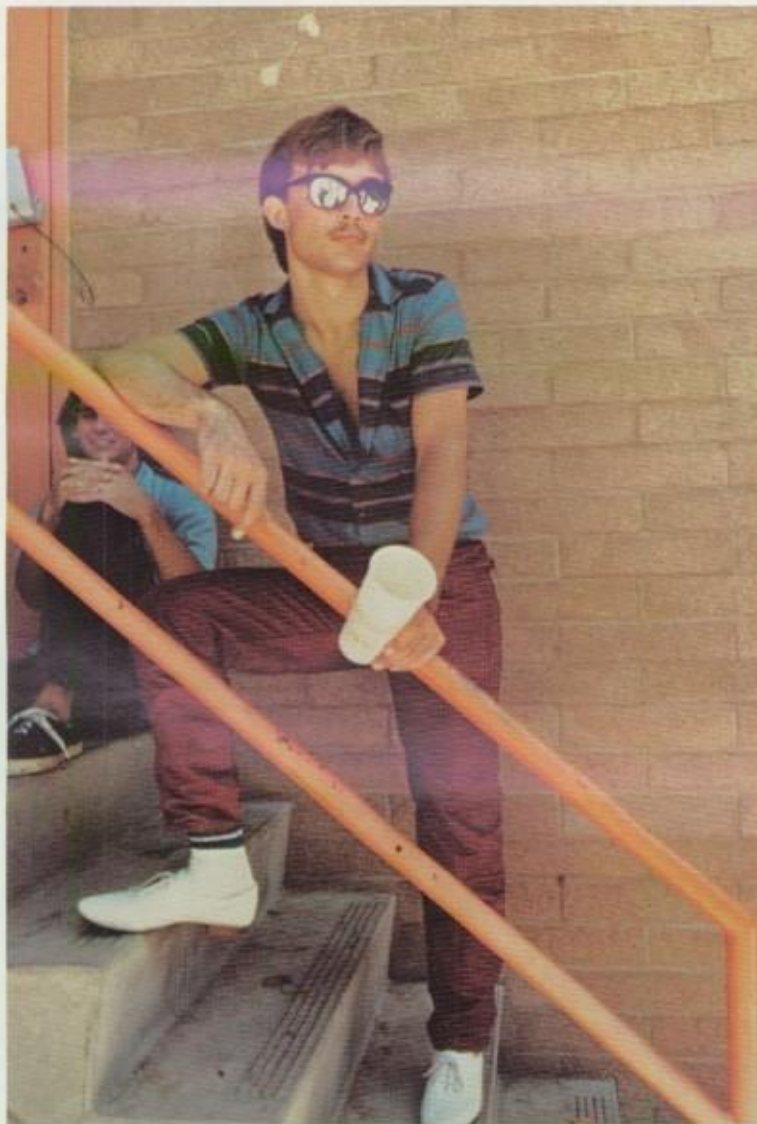

New fashions don't stop

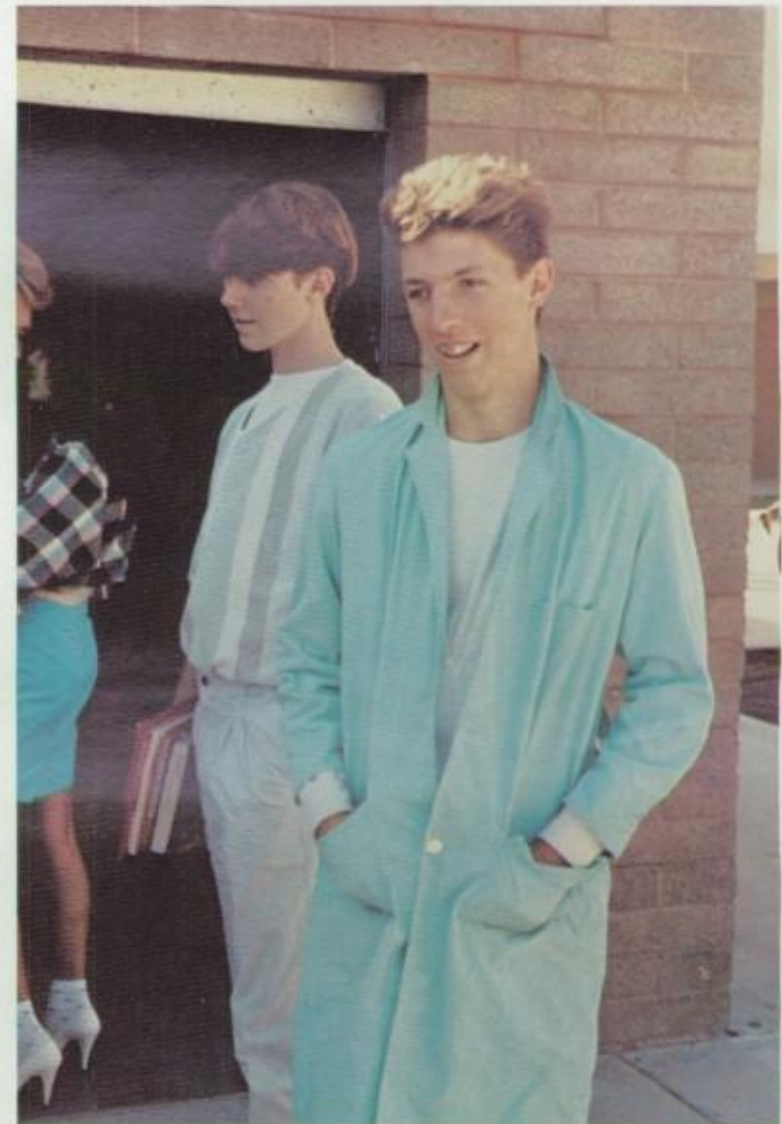

Variety was the key word for fashion this year.

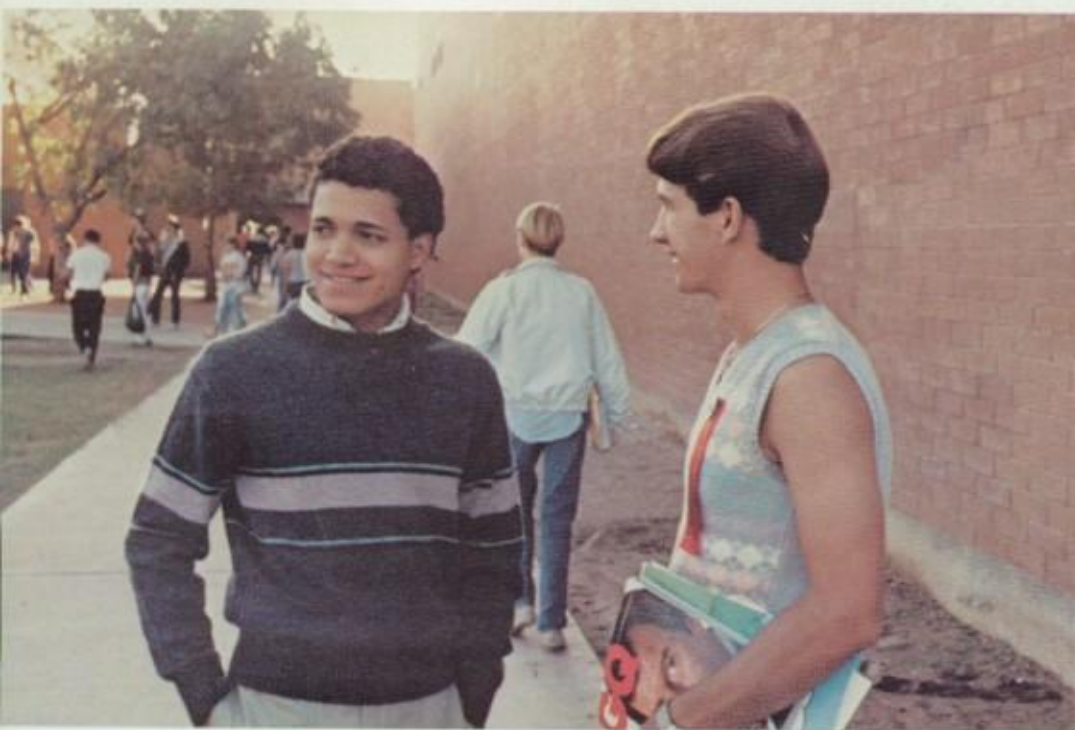

Christy Williams strikes a fashionable pose.

Oliver Lapo contemplates the rest of his school day.

Mike Hart sports a unique jacket.

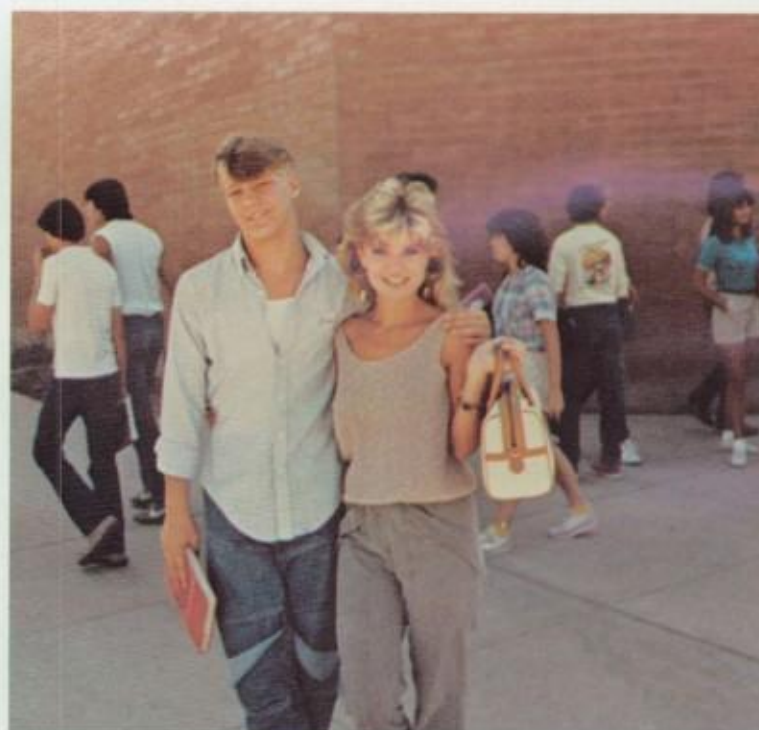

Martin Barringer tells Omar Ruiz about an article in GQ.

Fashion has also affected footwear.

Che' Mead explains her fashion of the day to friends.

Valerie Walker and Billy Jeffry model the typical student's outfit.

Fads and fashions change each year dramatically, and this year was certainly no exception.

One of the biggest rages was florescent clothing. People seemed to almost glow this year. From sweatshirts to tanktops, to earrings and socks, neon pink, green, yellow and orange were seen around every corner.

Two influences on fashions came from the entertainment industry — Cyndi Lauper inspired plaid pants, many bracelets and a "Girls just want to have fun" attitude. Duran Duran inspired a wedge hair cut and cropped pants.

Of course the old favorites were still to be seen, faded Levi's and Nikes, Polo shirts, ox-fords and penny loafers.

All in all this year's fashions were pretty much anything goes.

School undergoes many changes

Mr. Sal LaMagra talks to Dr. James Jurs at the staff farewell party for Dr. Jurs.

Miss Jane Northup speaks to a student in her new office.

As Paradise Valley anticipated the completion of the auditorium, we were delighted to see that many other changes had taken place on campus.

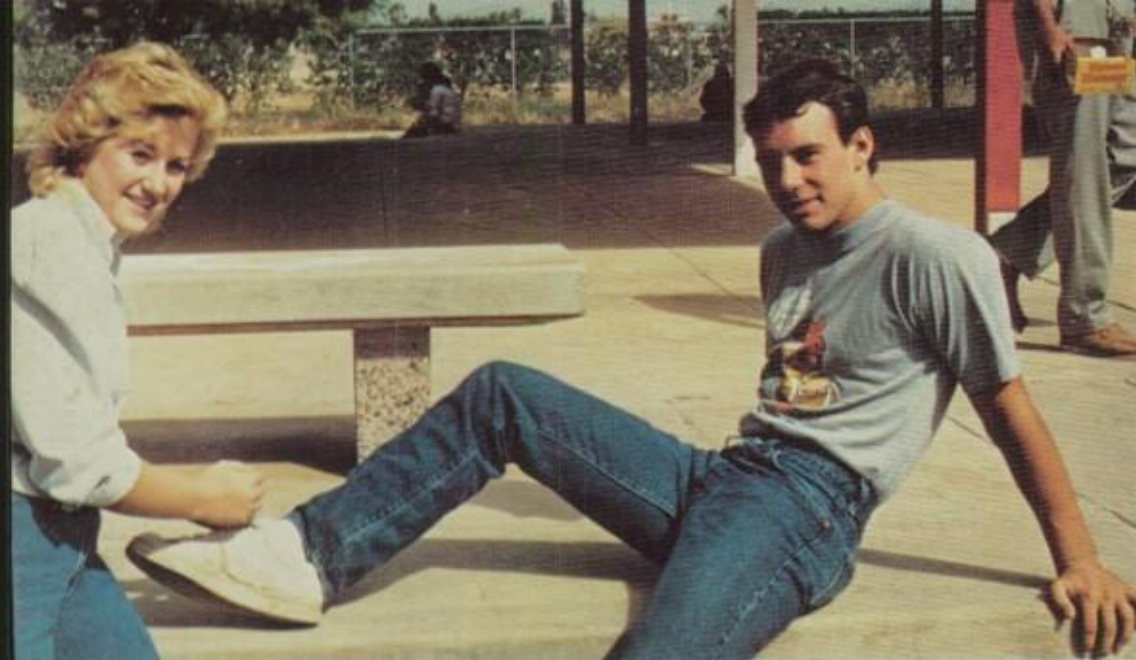

Other offices were remodeled during the summer. Ms. Northup's office was remodeled. Attendance and discipline problems are handled by her secretary, who has a big office for students to wait in. Mr. Lavin also shares this office. An outside door was added on to Ms. Northup's office for easier access.

The assistant principal's office was moved to the guidance counseling area. The assistant principal, Mr. Hudson, frequently works with the guidance counselors and the move makes this more convenient.

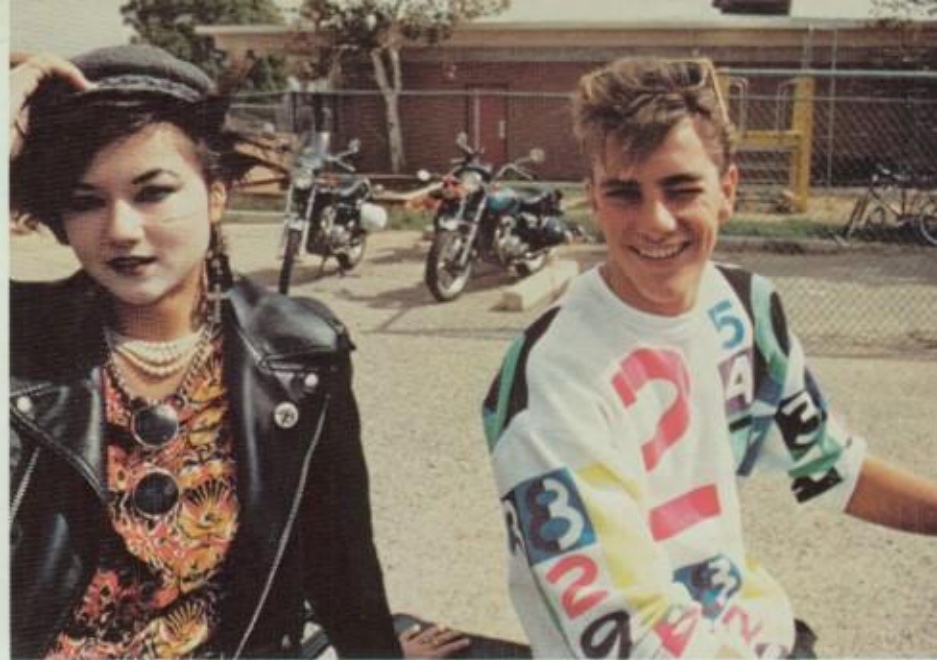

This year Paradise Valley received a new principal, Mr. Hal Buckley. Our principal, Dr. James Jurs became Assistant Superintendent of Personnel.

There have been many improvements on campus such as the painting of the Ramada, the football announcer's box and the re-painting of the garbage cans. All of these changes made the school more aesthetic.

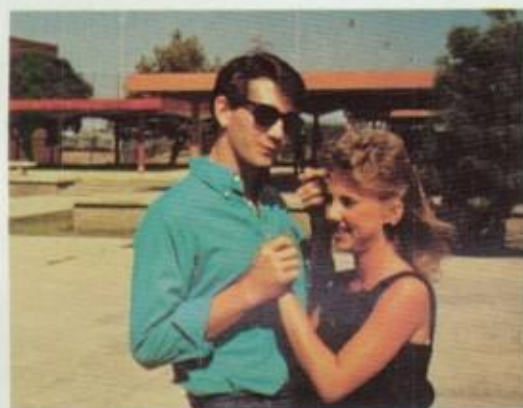

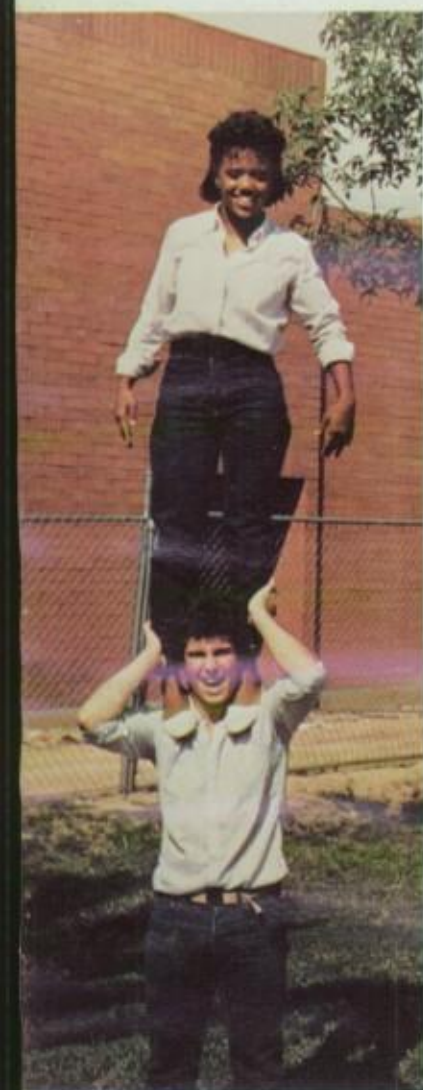

Unlike last year, all the buildings and electrical systems were in operation when students arrived on campus to start the year, with the exception of the auditorium.

Assemblies spark the spirit

Even though the assemblies went through many changes, many traditions remained the same.

One tradition at Paradise Valley is to announce the varsity athletic teams so the students know who is representing them at other schools. Another tradition is to teach the freshmen the Trojan Fight Song so they can teach it to future freshmen.

Besides the old traditions, a few new ones were added to the list. The first new tradition, started by Coach Lindmark at the first pep assembly, was to have the freshman football team sing the fight song if they won their game the night before. The upperclassmen enjoyed this.

Another new tradition was the competition for the spirit stick. Each class, senior, junior, sophomore, and frosh, said a cheer. The teachers then decided which class won the spirit stick.

This year, tradition of the first assembly being a welcome back assembly was changed. Instead of a welcome back assembly to start the year, the students went to a motivational assembly. A power team performed such feats as blowing up hot water bottles and breaking blocks of cement with their heads. This was to get the students motivated to become involved with the school.

One traditional assembly that stayed the same was the Homecoming assembly. At this assembly the students were formally introduced to the nominees. Then the students watched the nominees compete in a race.

Although assemblies become more varied each year, traditions will always be a part of PV's assemblies.

The band plays during our first pep assembly of the year.

The Varsity spirit line shows their talents by forming a pyramid.

The freshman football team prepares to sing the "Trojan Fight Song" at an assembly after winning the football game against Shadow Mountain.

At our first assembly, the Powerlifting team performed various stunts and gave our school motivation to begin the year.

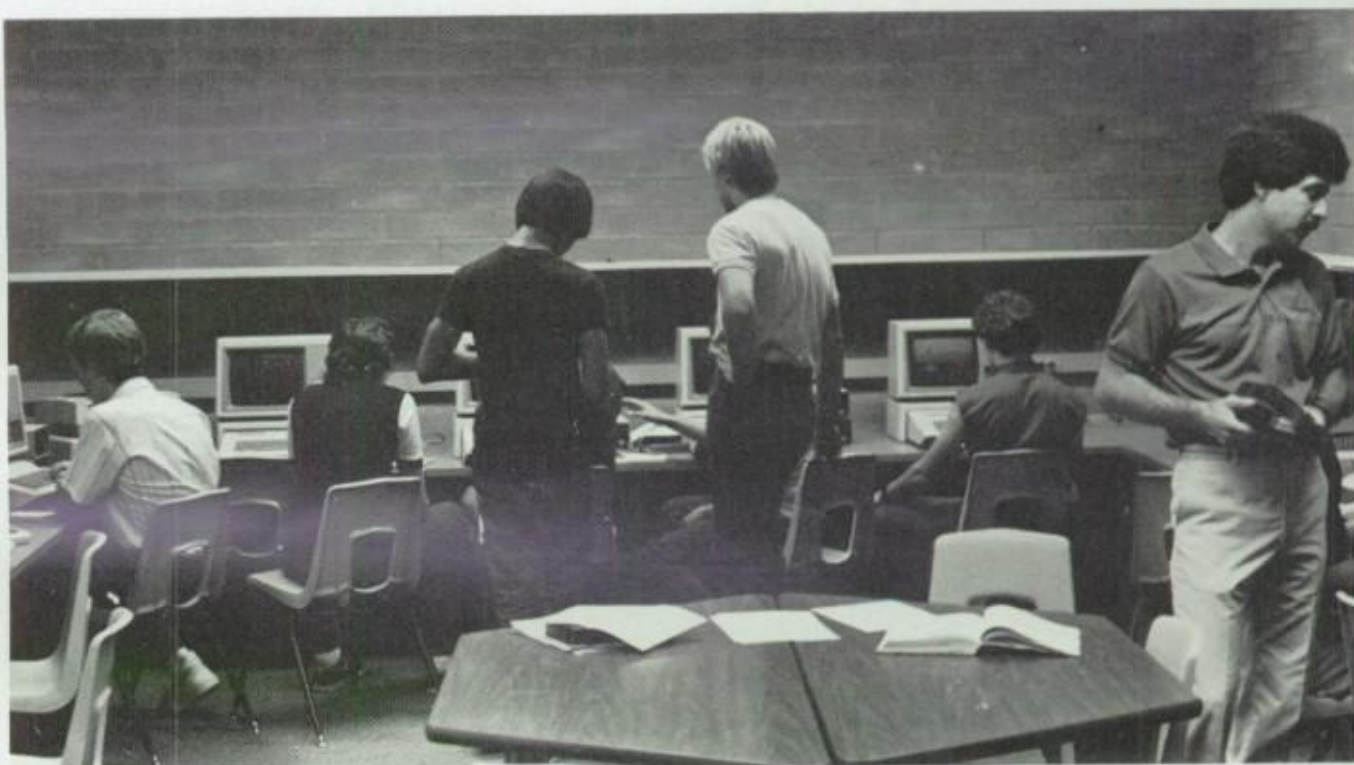

Brooke Steinberg and Menchu Labayen psyche themselves up for the next cheer.

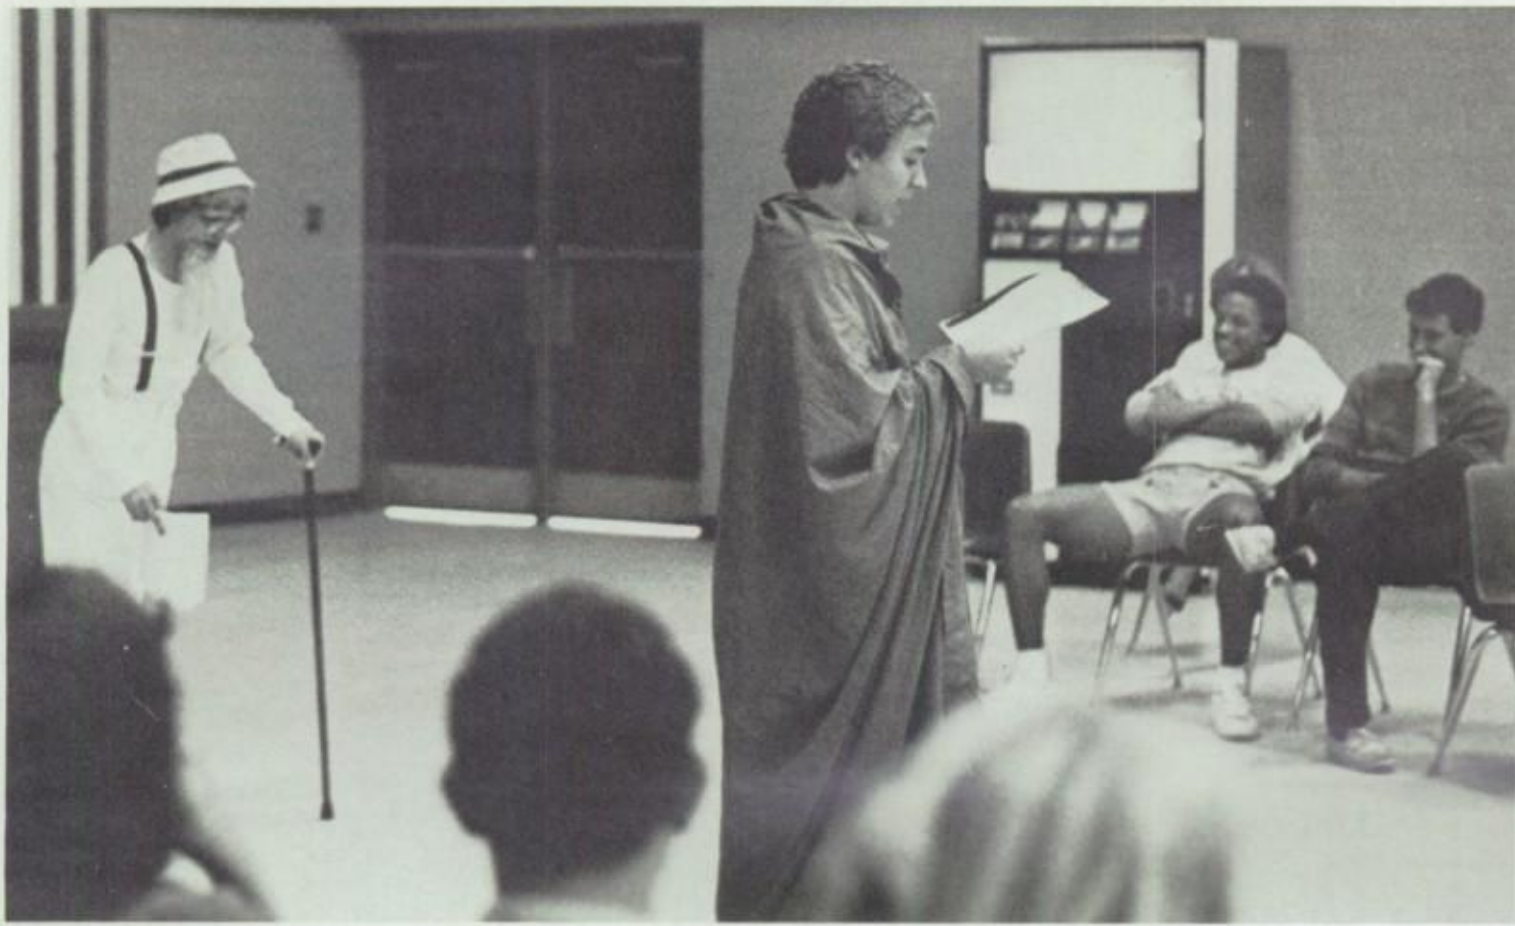

Academically, PV students are challenged daily! They are involved in learning new skills like woodworking or computers and writing term papers and reading Shakespeare.

The addition of the auditorium gave Performing Arts a chance to move and better establish themselves in a new area.

Freshman students are now required to take PE for one year.

With a well rounded required and elective curriculum PV students are bound to succeed.

Administrators express pride

After much hard work and schooling, Ms. Jane Northup, assistant principal in charge of discipline, feels she has reached a high point in her career. After working as an administrative assistant at Thunderbird High, Ms. Northup went back to school to take various classes on women in administration and then went to graduate school to get a degree in educational administration. After this she received her principal's certificate and acquired the job at PV.

"I would take the PV students any day over any other group," commented Ms. Northup.

"I think the pride has been growing every year since I've been here and the students are finally realizing they have much to be proud of," said Mr. John Hudson, assistant principal in charge of student activities.

Before coming to Paradise Valley, Mr. Hudson worked at Shadow Mountain for eight years.

"I've learned much from the students since I've been at PV. They've taught me about caring and about being genuine and about looking at one another not with a label but as a person and I'll always be grateful," said Mr. Hudson.

One way he learned about caring was through the prevention team, which was organized three years ago to deal with suicide prevention but later expanded to help all types of problems.

"I think it really fills a need on campus. For many kids school and their friends at school are the major source of support and one of the aspects of the prevention team is to reach out to the students who are struggling with a problem and provide support," said Mr. Hudson.

Mr. Hudson looks forward to the continual growth of greater student achievement, the growth of students' performance and a growth of pride and increased caring in both the students and the staff.

One reason Ms. Northup chooses to work with PV's students is in spite of mechanical flaws within the establishment causing students to be tardy, they learn to work around them.

Besides tardiness, Ms. Northup handles other problems concerning attendance, such as handling appeals and students skipping classes.

"The faculty is appreciated highly for their expertise and humane approach to teaching," said Ms. Northup. "The support personnel are dedicated and valuable members of the Paradise Valley Family and I'm most fortunate to have the opportunity to work here and be a part of this group."

Not too long ago, Ms. Northup was a new member of the Paradise Valley family, so she can understand how Mr. Hal Buckley feels now that he has replaced Dr. Jim Jurs.

Ms. Northup is looking forward to the continual growth of pride and spirit. One way to raise spirit and involvement is by the Allstar retreat, which was a trip to Prescott with students from Horizon and Shadow Mountain.

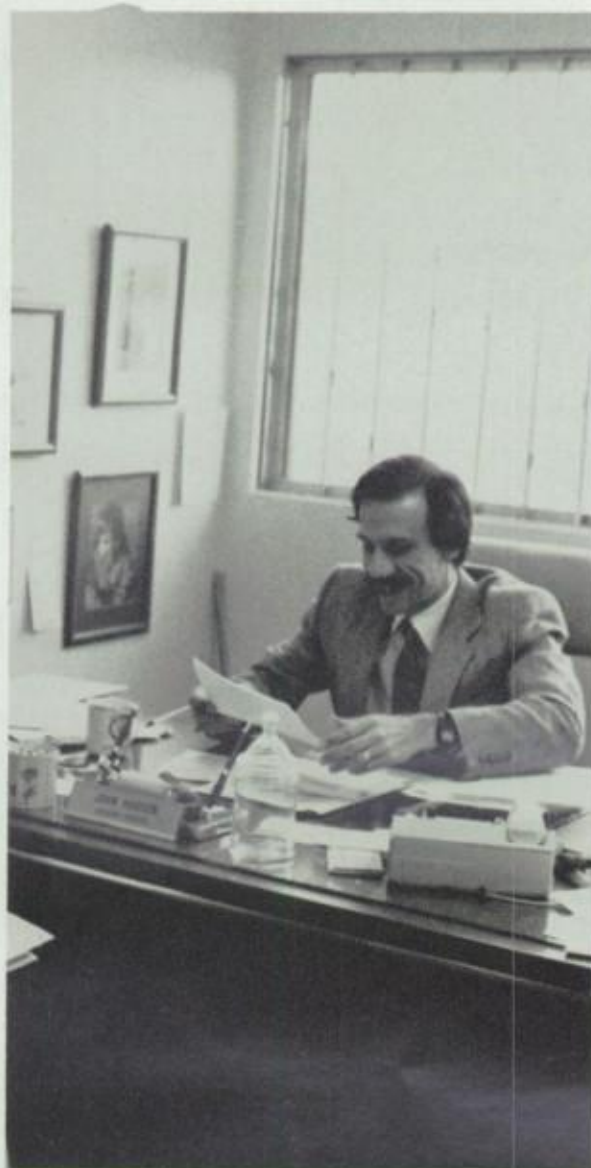

Miss Northup hands Wayne Bailey, sophomore, a pass to get into class.

Mr. Buckley addresses the student body during the winter sports assembly.

New principal initiates Allstars

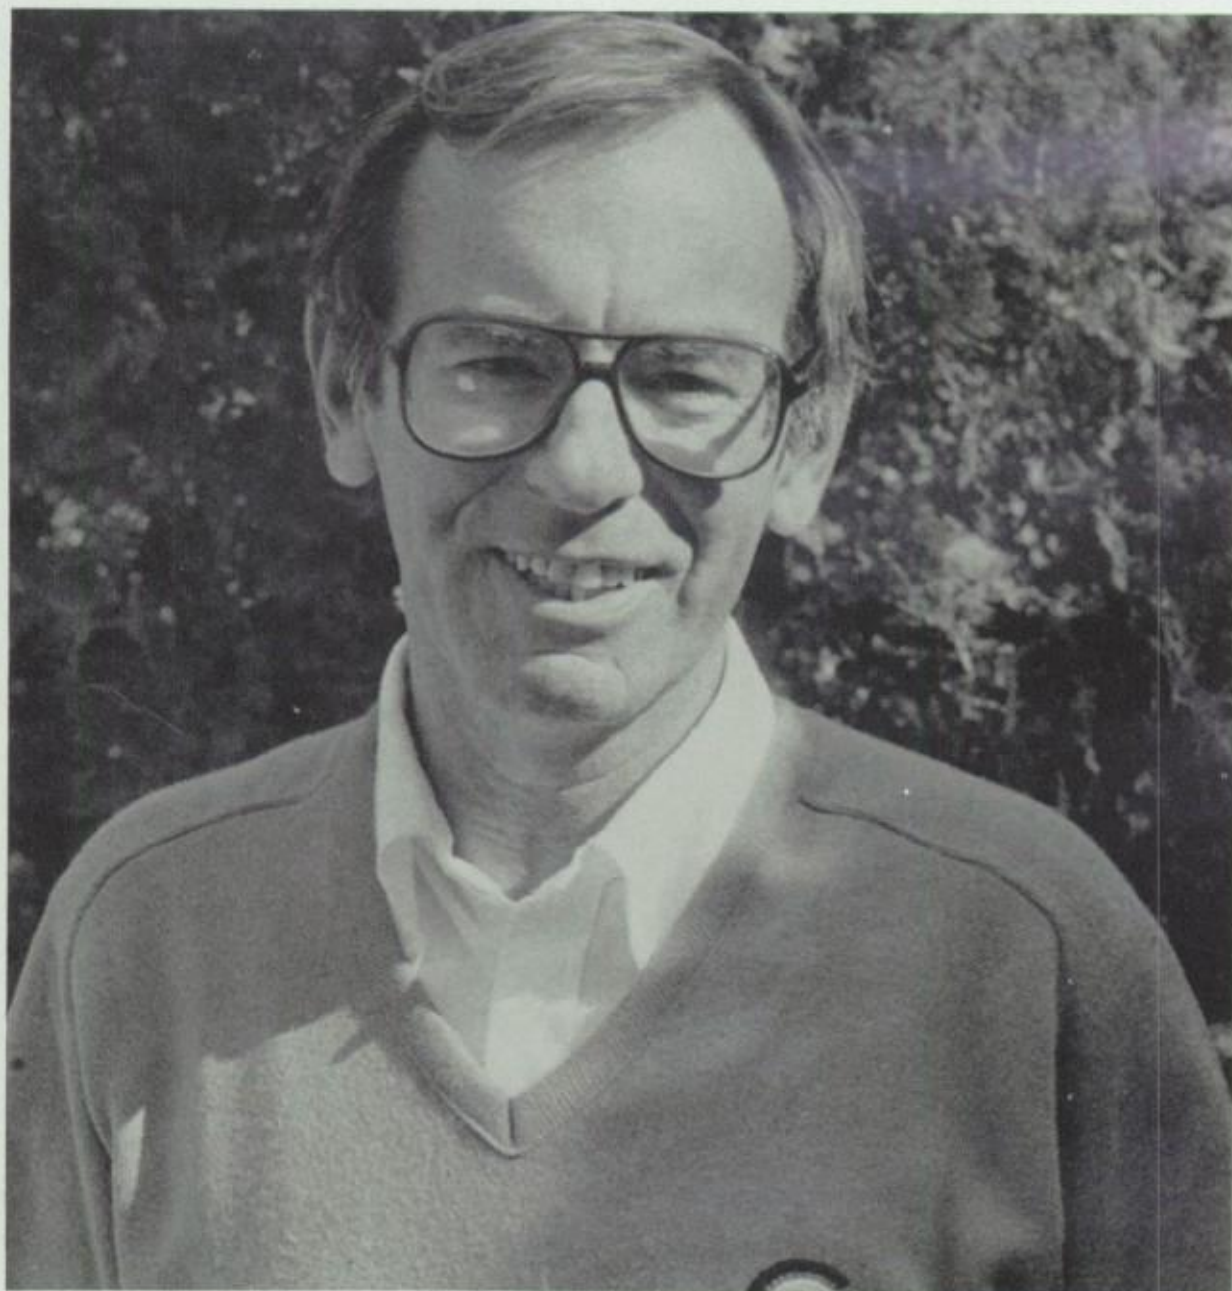

Mr. Hal Buckley, Paradise Valley's new principal, feels PV is one of the best schools around. "I enjoy PV very much. We have a very fine staff that is committed to excellence in teaching the student body."

Mr. Buckley came to PV from Chapparral High where he worked as vice-principal for seven years and acting principal for a semester.

The major difference between PV and Chapparral, according to Mr. Buckley, is that PV is still under construction while Chapparral is complete. "The students are the same all around. This school is very student oriented but the students also realize there are rules to follow when something is wrong."

Since arriving at PV, Mr. Buckley has added some of his own personal touches such as the reading of a historical fact each day and saying the pledge of allegiance on Mondays and Fridays. "I feel the students should say the pledge of allegiance because it shows patriotism and the fact that we care enough for the country we live in. Each student can show a little respect for his country. Many have fought and died to live in this country," commented Mr. Buckley.

Besides saying the pledge of allegiance, Mr. Buckley helped to set up an Allstar retreat, which was a four day trip to Prescott in which students had the opportunity to get to know themselves better.

Our secretaries on campus have important things to do in the office.

The secretaries keep things running smoothly by taking phone calls, using the computers for the attendance and handling of attendance problems.

"The benefits of being a secretary is talking with everyone and seeing the students everyday," says Mrs. Ida Gerber, secretary to Mr. Buckley. Besides the secretarial staff, the school nurses, Mrs. Lynda Flora and Mrs. Delores Philley, also enjoy their job by keeping the students fit and healthy. At the beginning of the year they did health screening with things such as the hearing and vision tests.

Another group on campus deals with the students because they are the security guards. The security guards feel that they benefit from their job by helping students with their problems. The advantage is talking and seeing all the students everyday. The security guards use their walkie talkies to determine the location of the other security. This is the first year that they have used them and they find them very useful.

"Overall, the English students are well prepared, have better composition skills than in the past years and seem to have a positive attitude about English," said Mrs. Jeri Toal, Department Chairperson.

This year's main goal is working on CUES, Comprehensive Unified Educational Skills, and a test for the Junior level to be implemented next fall. They are also in the process of collecting samples of student writing for a composition guide booklet for students.

Mr. Ben Jordan, a retired English teacher and a former Department Chairman from the Phoenix Union

District, is working with Sophomore composition classes one day a week and finds students cooperative and respectful.

"As in the past, the English department has a cooperative and congenial group of teachers who are very dedicated to their profession and enthusiastic about teaching English," complimented Mrs. Jeri Toal.

The Foreign Language department started out with new courses such as Latin 1-2, German 3-4 and Russian 1-2. These courses enable students to learn more about the language, culture and customs.

Mr. Cornell becomes Department Chairman

Some changes in the Paradise Valley Mathematics Department were in personnel. Mr. Paul Cornell took over the position of Department Chairman.

Along with a new department chairman, two new teachers joined the staff Mr. Bob Lambi and Ms. Robin Levine.

The mathematics department received a new computer this year, an Apple Macintosh. They also raised money for a large color monitor for the Apple II E by selling Christmas ornaments.

The mathematics department's classes range from basic math all the way to calculus. They also offer courses in computers.

The main effort of the mathematics department is doing the best they can to prepare students for the business and academic world.

"I think we work really well together and the students are a primary concern," said Mr. Paul Cornell, Paradise Valley Mathematics Department Chairman.

Science students help buy computer

Students work diligently on a project in Biology.

The Science Department started off the year with two new teachers, Mrs. Judy Gerdin who teaches Medical Careers and Mr. Jeff Simpson who teaches General Science and Biology.

This year the science students did not just participate in class, they also sold Holiday gifts to help raise money for science computers. The computers will not just be for teachers. The students will be able to use them for extra credit and to perform demonstrations that could not be done in class or to do work beyond required assignments. It will be a period of 5 years before all of the equipment will be added.

The Science Department had a few problems earlier in the year with a gas leak. The school district reacted quickly and brought portable propane burners so that class work could continue.

"Students in Special Ed are working hard. They realize the benefits of the program, and they look forward to being in the regular program," says Mrs. Dianna Woistman, Department Chairman of the Special Ed Program.

This year the program has grown in number and the self-contained TMH class has been expanded. A Behavioral Resource Program is also being planned for the remainder of the year.

The work experience program aids in the job finding process for those involved students. Students have a regular class and a part-time job for which they receive two credits per year. They are supervised by the employer and are occasionally checked on by their teacher.

Mrs. Woistman states, "The main purpose of the Special Ed Program is to assist students in developing self-realization, economic efficiency, social confidence and civic responsibility."

Guaranteed Guidance Program aids Frosh

Each student on our PV campus has a counselor and meets with him at least once a year. Students and Counselors may discuss such concerns as personal problems, parents, teachers, scheduling, admissions testing and gain information on careers for the future.

The counselors were also involved in the Guaranteed Guidance program which is in its second year at PV. In the program the counselor arranges a conference with the freshman students and parents to discuss graduation requirements and adjustment to high school. According to Mr. Jerry Lemon, department chairman, his advice to oncoming freshman is "don't get discouraged."

Another program administered by the counseling office is the state mandated achievement test. This year the Stanford Achievement test will replace the California Achievement test. All students here will be required to take the Stanford Achievement test.

Students Display Talents.

Although some people feel only those with a refined talent may take art, this isn't so.

Art is more than that. It's a way to express feelings through one-self.

In class, students learn to draw detail pencil drawings, draw from pictures, silkscreen, paint and learn ceramics.

There are all types of art classes such as Intro. to Fine Art, Painting and Ceramics.

Miss Patty Shack, art teacher, says, "Art gives students an alternative, as a hobby or a career."

Department organizes mock election

The Social Studies department began the year with a mock election to determine the students' opinion of the 1984 Presidential Race.

"The mock election was very successful because 1000 students participated and that is very good considering it was our first mock election," said Mr. Augie Zito, Department Chairman.

The election was sponsored by a national committee on mock elections and by the Department of Education. Over 80 percent of the students voted for the Reagan-Bush ticket.

A scholarship program was also held this year and was sponsored by Western Savings. "The idea was to encourage seniors to enter an essay depicting what they think are major problems that Arizona has and how they would solve them," commented Mr. Zito.

The contest is state wide and about 25 students from PV entered, competing for a $5000 scholarship to a college of their choice. The contest will be narrowed down to 25 finalists, each receiving $500. The top four finalists receive the Grand Prize. In addition to outside activities, the Social Studies department worked on students' academic performances in the Social Studies area.

"The district philosophy is to provide students with the knowledge and understanding of American background and history so they do not make the same mistakes in the future that were made in the past," commented Mr. Zito.

The department also worked on teaching students the democratic system, their responsibilities that go with it, such as voting and going accordingly to the laws of our country.

"We don't impose values on people but rather make them aware of their citizenship. We try to enrich student's minds with history and sociology so that they may learn how to get along with each other and other countries," said Mr. Zito.

Two new teachers joined the social studies staff, and Mr. Wyck Chew. is in his first year of teaching and is also an assistant basketball coach. Mr. Chew is also teaching for the first time and is head coach of the freshman basketball team.

Industrial Ed prepares students for future

Do you have any ideas for the future? Maybe an after school drafting job? How about welding part time?

The industrial education dept. is the place to turn for proper training.

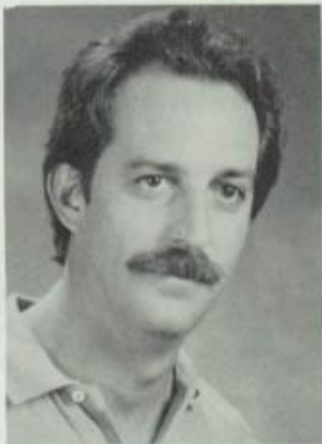

The industrial education dept. offers a wide variety of classes to suit all likes and needs of a high school student.

PV is the center of vocational classes. Students from Horizon, and Shadow Mountain are selected on the basis of talent and knowledge to commute to PV every day.

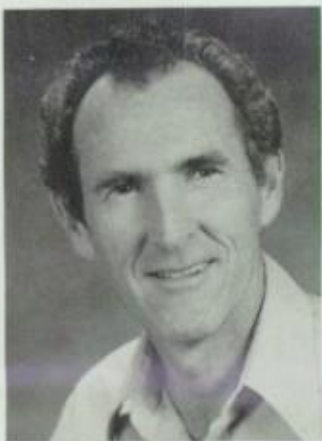

Graphic arts, technical illustration, body shop and welding are a few of the vocational classes offered.

Mr. Keith Kayler, a PV teacher for the past fourteen years, feels industrial education is an excellent area in school. "Many students find industrial education to be quite fulfilling. Students can expand and master many fields," stated Mr. Kayler.

Mr. Byron Harper, head of the industrial education department, said, "Industrial education is just an absolutely great area. Everyone should give it a shot."

Freshmen meet PE requirement

The Physical Education department offered a wide variety of classes to students this year.

The programs offered this year were Basic PE, Advanced PE, Weight training I & II, Trimmastics, Dance, and Dynamic Living.

Some of the most popular classes taken by students were Basic PE and Weight training, said Coach Burdette.

Mr. Burdette, who has been at PV for 10 years and is department chairman for PE this year, said, "Physical conditioning, competitive skills and social benefits can be gained by taking a PE class."

The weight room equipment has been redone this year with the help of the upholstery class. Benches and other equipment have been recovered that needed it desperately.

Also more weightlifting equipment has been added to the weight room.

"Because of the new PE requirement, we will try to offer programs to meet the needs of the students," said Department Chairman Mr. Burdette.

Driver's Education is also included in this year's PE curriculum.

Mrs. Diana Hawkinson

Students in the fashion Plus class in the Home-Economics department were treated this year to a trip to the LA Fashion Mart.

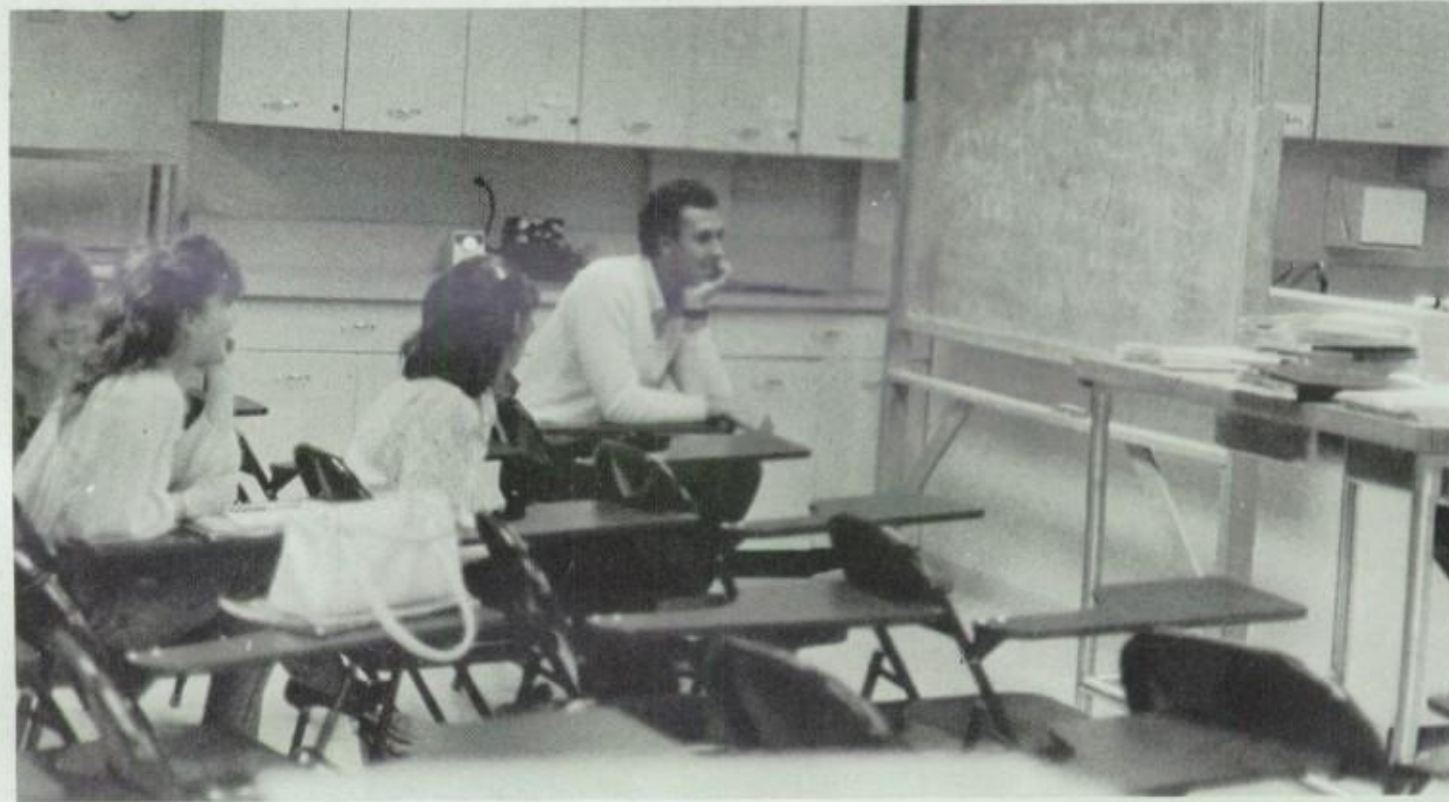

Funds for the trip came from a federal grant and students with the top grades were chosen from all three high schools in the district for the trip, the last week in March, for three days. While they were there, they visited the costume department at Disneyland, a clothing manufacturer's factory and the fashion Institute of Design and Merchandising.

One of the new pieces of equipment that was acquired in the department was the new Apple II-E computer. This computer figures grades and helps nursery school children learn to read. It helps out Home Economics in many ways.

Food II was involved in many projects. One of the projects was catering the faculty Christmas party. The class also operated a restaurant once a week.

The Home Economics department sponsored scholarships for students. Students in the department sold cookbooks to raise the funds. The funds also went to sponsor a student for All-State, which is a leadership conference.

Ms. Frieswyk, Hero coordinator became engaged and left at the end of first semester. Mrs. Cathy Hansen took her place.

Tara Johns, Angela Cipriano, Michele Valdez and Jeff Lime discuss the first semester final exam.

Performing Arts Strives for Excellence

The Performing Arts department was very busy this year teaching students to perform their best in their field.

The Performing Arts is broken down into five areas. In the department is instrumental band, taught by Mr. Frank Malambri, Department Chairman; and choir, taught by Mr. Larry Wittig. Drama and Speech are taught by Mrs. Mary Irvin. Radio-TV is taught by Mrs. Shirley Andro and Winning an Argument is taught by Mrs. Sue Bar-don.

This year the marching band performed at football games and also went to the NAU marching festival. They performed at Motorola and Camelback Inn and at the grand opening of K-Mart on Bell Road.

The Jazz Band played at home basketball games and at the NAU Jazz festival. The Symphonic band attended the regional festival. Both the Symphonic and Jazz bands gave two concerts in May.

"The training for the bands is good background for leisure time in the future. Instruments are a very important part of our culture," commented Mr. Malambri.

Choir this year worked on getting ready for festivals and tours by rehearsing the songs they need for competition. The choir is set up in sections, each with a section leader. Alto leader is Lori Joy; Tenor is Treven Rollins; Bass is Scott Kovach; Soprano is Traci Russen. The choir chairperson is Sheli Thompson. Each section leader was responsible for his section and the chairperson sets up dates for concerts.

Drama performed 3 one-act plays this year and went to ASU for workshops where they were involved in learning how to do auditions, how to correct acting problems, the acting technique, and how to apply makeup. They also performed at elementary schools in the District and the first week in May performed "Our Town".

Speech class is divided into two areas, Speech I-2 and Winning an Argument.

Speech I-2 is a speech communications class where you learn different types of speaking such as impromptu, demonstration and persuasion. During second semester they learned oral interpretation of literature such as poems and plays.

Winning an Argument worked on two styles of debate, Lincoln-Douglas, where one has two people who each gives his point which is followed by a cross-examination; and traditional style is two people on two teams debating. They also worked on persuasion, group discussion and commercials.

Radio-TV this year worked on producing radio and TV programs such as soap operas, commercials, news and variety. They learned how to use audio and video equipment normally used in small radio and TV studios.

The most noticeable change that happened in the Performing Arts department is the fact that they moved to their new facilities by the new auditorium.

"We're delighted to have a decent place to perform," commented Mrs. Irvin. "It's going to be nice because new classrooms will provide a better atmosphere for learning."

Department purchases software

Some changes occurred in the Business department this year. The biggest change is that the Computer room received more software, printers and disc drives for the computers. The new equipment has been a great success this year. Because the machines are new and in working order, it is easier for both the student and teacher.

Though there is the same number of students enrolling in business classes, it seems as if business is becoming more and more important. As we go into the Computer Age, almost every job anyone takes includes knowing how to use some kind of machine from Typewriters to Computers.

"Everybody needs to take business because you deal with it for your entire life," said Mrs. Marilyn Patrick, the chairman of the Department.

Media Center gets facelift

Students study quietly in the newly refurbished Media Center.

Mrs. Justine Weaver, our Media Technician.

This year the media center underwent a complete remodeling because of water damage during the summer.

It was discovered last year that the media center had to be re-roofed and the asbestos had to be removed from the walls. During the summer construction was started to repair these two problems. A temporary roof was put on but during that time and before the final roof could be added, rain ruined the inside of the center.

Much damage was done to the media center. Mrs. Andro, media director, said, "It was a mess, books were all mildewy." The rain destroyed all the carpet. $3,000 worth of damage was done to the non-fiction books. Shelving and furniture were also damaged. When the damage occurred, all the library staff helped clean up on their own time during the summer. It took them from July to November to make sure everything was back in order.

The media center is still in the process of being remodeled. The remainder of the year was spent getting all the furniture they had ordered and replacing the books.

The media center has a new system, the computer circulation system. "It makes things a lot easier and faster," said Mrs. Andro. The computer helps with the booking and filing and it makes things much more current.

The alarm system is effectively stopping students from walking out with books. It helps cut down the loss of any more books, which had been about an 85% loss.

Staff performs needed services

Custodians: Steve Brummet, Al Biperata, Ron DeChance, Dan Crook, Mrs. Bertha DeNoyelles, Mrs. Linda Johnson. Not Pictured: Charlie Archer, Bill Zachow, and Pat Patton.

The custodians at PV are always keeping busy cleaning the campus and keeping it in working order.

The custodian's job is cleaning up trash, fixing whatever is broken, running errands or anything that is needed of them. The task of cleaning up the campus is not an easy one, especially since the construction has made a considerable mess.

They work together to keep the PV campus the best that it can be.

The workers in the cafeteria also work hard to serve good, nutritious and flavorful food to the students.

The cafeteria workers spend much of their time cooking, cleaning and serving the students. This job is enjoyable because "You get to know the students and it keeps you young," says Mrs. Lorraine Collumbe, who worked in the snack bar the first semester.

To work in the snack bar or the cafeteria, one must follow certain health regulations, one of which is keeping clean. This includes the workers, dishes, utensils and food.

Few people appreciate the hard work and effort put into the food in the cafeteria and snack bar but it is a service we all take advantage of quite regularly.

Valedictorian Paul Tracy

How can a person maintain a 4.39 grade point average and still hold down a part time job? Just ask the class of '85 valedictorian Paul Tracy.

"The good teachers at this school make it much easier to do well," said Paul. Planning to attend Northern Arizona University, Paul will major in computer science.

Working part time at Carvel Ice Cream still allows Paul the time for extracurricular activities.

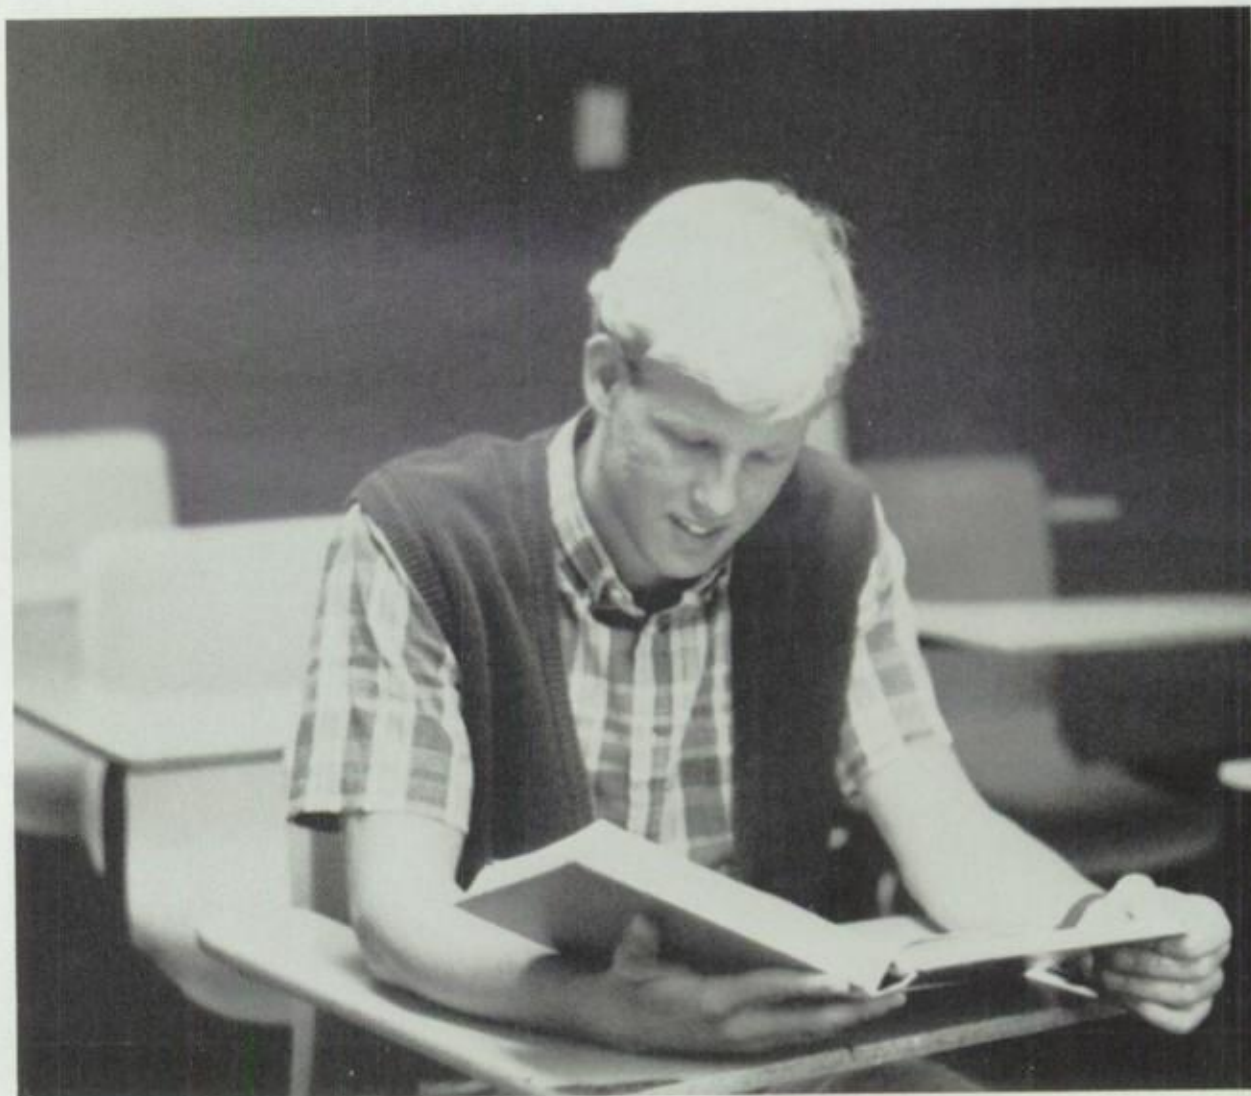

"I advise students who would like to get the most out of high school to become involved in as many school projects as possible," Paul recommended.

"It's not so much a person's ability as it is his desire to learn." Chris Halderson's philosophy has served him well judging by his 4.24 grade point average.

Already enrolled at Arizona State University, Chris plans to study Industrial Engineering.

"My interest in science and math is the main force behind my achievements," said Chris. "My parents have been an inspiration as well."

During his junior year, Chris received the medallion of merit from A.S.U., and will accept a scholarship for being in the top four percent of his class. Chris also has a part time job at the Pointe Resort.

Allstars gain confidence

In January, a group of 56 students and eight teachers went on a retreat to Prescott for four days. The students were chosen because of the leadership they displayed.

The students were called ALLSTARS, Activities Leadership Laboratories — Students Teaming Around Responsibility. The allstars had the privilege of meeting the A-Team, which is a group of eight individuals who travel all over the country and present their motivational program to help better schools and the individual person.

The goal of the group was to get all the high schools in the Paradise Valley School District, PV, Horizon, Polaris, and Shadow Mountain, to join together more as a community than as rivals.

Besides community unity, self-respect and accepting people for what they are were some topics discussed.

"I think it was a great experience that helped me to be more honest with myself," commented Maryanne Autino, junior. "The retreat really gave me a chance to look at my life from the outside and to reflect back on what was missing."

Allstars relax during one of their breaks at the Prescott retreat.

Girls' and Boys' State Representatives

Four boys and three girls represented Paradise Valley last summer at Boys' and Girls' State.

Boys' State took place at Northern Arizona University on June 3-7. Girls' State took place at University of Arizona on June 4-10. The program gave the students a new knowledge and understanding of our government.

At Girls' State and Boys' State the students instituted their own city, county and state governments by electing their legislature, assemblies and city councils. They introduced their own bills, organized their own law enforcement agencies and acted as self-governing citizens for the duration of the conference.

Toni Farmer ran for and won the position of city mayor. Chris Halderson was elected to the position of Representative. Maria Gary was also elected Representative. Kim Laws received the position of parliamentarian of her city.

"The participants are nominated by the entire faculty and then chosen by a screening committee at the end of their junior year," said Mr. Ron Harten, guidance counselor at Paradise Valley.

The participants that represented Paradise Valley were Toni Farmer, Maria Gary, Kim Laws, Denny Gomez, Chris Halderson, Treven Rollins and Billy Underwood.

"Boys' State helped me better understand Arizona's government and gave me the chance to meet present and future Arizona leaders of our State," said Chris Halderson.

Toni Farmer said, "I liked it; it gave me the opportunity to meet a lot of new people."

According to Denny Gomez, another representative, "It was a good experience and profitable for the future."

Every month two outstanding students receive awards for exceptional academic scores. Although A's and B's are basically standard requirements, social involvement, school clubs and even community services are taken into consideration.

When a scholarly prospect is found, a teacher may submit a form describing the student deserving recognition.

With this honor comes a complimentary lunch, and a Student of the Month plaque — the Optimus Creed. Their names also appear on the Marquee and on a plaque in the front office.

The Paradise Valley Drama club reenacted the production of Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" for the community.

The play opened on Thursday, May 9, and closed Friday, May 10. Curtain was promptly opened at 7:30 pm.

The cast worked hard practicing every day from 2:30 to 4:30 from March 6 to May 8.

Miss Penny Scott and Mrs. Mary Irvin were the co-directors of the play.

This play is noted for its creative use of the stage manager's directions.

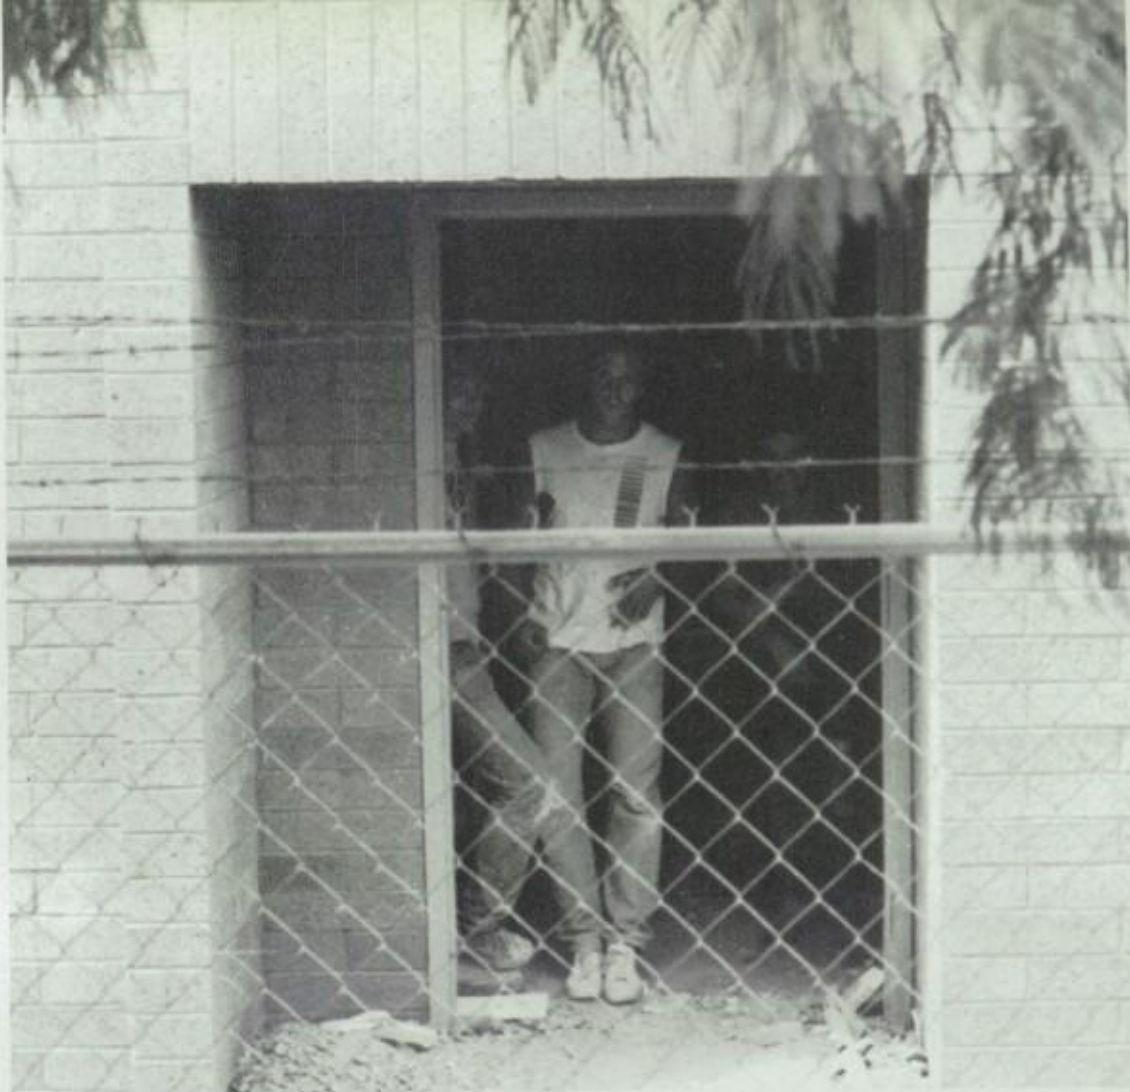

The play describes the three phases of life, childhood, marriage, and death, and how people deal with each of these parts of life.

PEOPLE . . .

PV consists of all kinds of people and people are what PV is all about.

From giving a word of support to helping solve a problem, the students are involved with what's happening in the school.

Seniors Tackle Last Year with Spirit.

The Senior Class of 1985 had an interesting and successful year. Among things accomplished were going on two Senior Flings, winning the Homecoming float contest, sponsoring the Christmas dance and two Blood Drives.

For the first time there were two Senior Flings, the traditional one to California and a first trip to Hawaii. The California trip was for three days and included a day at Balboa Beach, a night at Disneyland, a day at Magic Mountain and a trip to Catalina Island before heading home. The Hawaii trip lasted eight days with many optional tours available. Seniors could do just about anything they wanted touring the island of Waikiki.

For the first time in four years the class of '85' took first place in the Homecoming float contest, tying with VICA. The theme of the float was "Here today, Gone to Maui", tying in with the Senior fling to Hawaii.

Seniors also co-sponsored the Christmas Dance with the Junior class and sponsored the traditional semi-annual Blood Drives.

Seniors had a great last year at Paradise Valley and made plans for the future with hopeful expectations.

As you review your years in high school, what advice would you give to an underclassman?

Tim O'Connor: "Get involved in as many extra-curricular activities as you can but don't let your grades go down."

Kyle Scott-Duns: "Keep your mind on school because there is always time for pleasure. High school is the beginning of life and you don't want to start it on the wrong foot."

Teresa Millsap: "The first thing is to make high school your best years ever. Make high school fun, but apply yourself. Get involved, become active and remember high school should become your memories of a lifetime."

Marc Nalow: "The first thing is to have a good time. Want to or not, enjoy yourself. As a freshman, the four year road to graduation seems mythical, a lifetime away. But when you finally arrive with your years under your belt, you should be able to look back with a smile and say 'that wasn't so bad after all!'"

The Junior Class had a productive and rewarding year. One reward was the successful outcome of Homecoming.

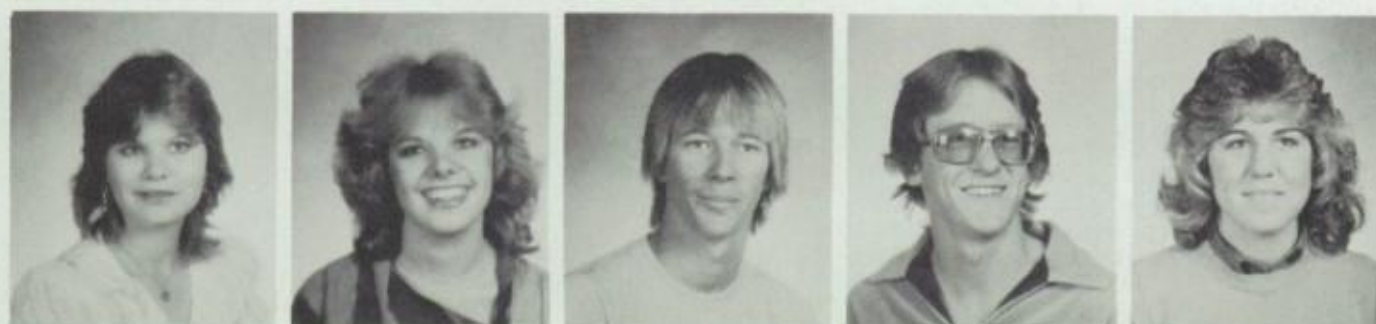

They sold Homecoming grams and spirit ribbons, as well as playing a major role in the assembly, nominations and the dance. Their float was "Spring Fever", which was built at Kelly Rockwalik's house.

Juniors sponsored the "Welcome Back" dance in September and the Christmas dance on Dec. 14, both of which were quite successful.

The Junior class spent many long hours planning and preparing for Prom. It was held May 19 at the Lake Side Country Club at 103 Avenue and Thunderbird. The setting was unique with one wall overlooking the lake.

Although much time and thought was put into these activities, studies were not forgotten. They took their PSAT in October and prepared throughout the year for the ACT test the senior year.

The Junior class can look back on a rewarding year.

Sophomores . . . Class of "87"

The 430 Sophomores worked together and had a very successful year. They sponsored the Paradise vs. Horizon dance, freshman elections, Class rings, Sweetheart dance and a balloon sale.

The Paradise Valley vs. Horizon dance in Oct., Sweetheart dance in Feb. and the selling of balloon grams were fundraisers working toward the goal of putting on a successful Junior Prom next year.

"The Coolest Class on Earth", the Sophomore Homecoming float, came in third place. It took about a week and a half to complete the float.

The Sophomore class officers were President Kathy Cristiano, Vice President Kathy Ozbun, Secretary Timi Deckwa, Treasurer Kristie Ostash, and representatives Mike Barnes and Amy Sellers.

"I feel the Sophomore class is getting better and better," said Sophomore class Vice President, Kathy Ozbun.

Class of '88 . . .

A new beginning awaits freshmen each year as they start high school. The freshmen meet new challenges such as what classes to take, how to find classrooms and how to make the change from the oldest people in middle school to the youngest in high school.

The first event of the freshman year is the freshman elections. They started off the year by campaigning for the officers by putting up posters campaigning for each person. The elected officers were as follows: Vinnie Gutwein, president; Amy Wilson, vice president; Julie Johnson, secretary; and two representatives, Missy Jeffrey and Sandy Dodson.

The second main event of the year was that the freshman homecoming float came in second in the competition. The float, "The Mighty Red White Wave", was built at Vinnie Gutwein's house. For two weeks about twenty people were involved every day in the construction of the float.

Freshmen Shannon Holmes, Laurie Klaass, Tammy Newby, Lynn Kuhlman and Jennifer Buri discuss what second semester has to offer.

'This is it' is special

Student Council made the 1984 Homecoming, "This is it," a special experience for the student body and Homecoming Royalty.

Spirit week was Nov. 5 through Nov. 9. Monday started off the week with "Hat and Button Day," Tuesday was "Nerd Day" with "Hawaiian Tourist Day" following on Wednesday. Thursday was "Business Day," and Friday closed the week with the traditional "Red and White Day."

At the game, half-time started off with a bang as the band marched onto the field to "Gaucho" forming a large heart. Next the homecoming royalty was announced. Justin Pint and Toni Farmer were crowned Homecoming King and Queen by last year's royalty, Steve Price and Dawn Vargyas. First attendants were Valerie Walker and Pete Klaass. Kim Laws and Larry Burgess were second attendants, with Tabitha Weeks and Billy Underwood placing as third attendants. Menchu Labayen and Ricky Young were fourth attendants.

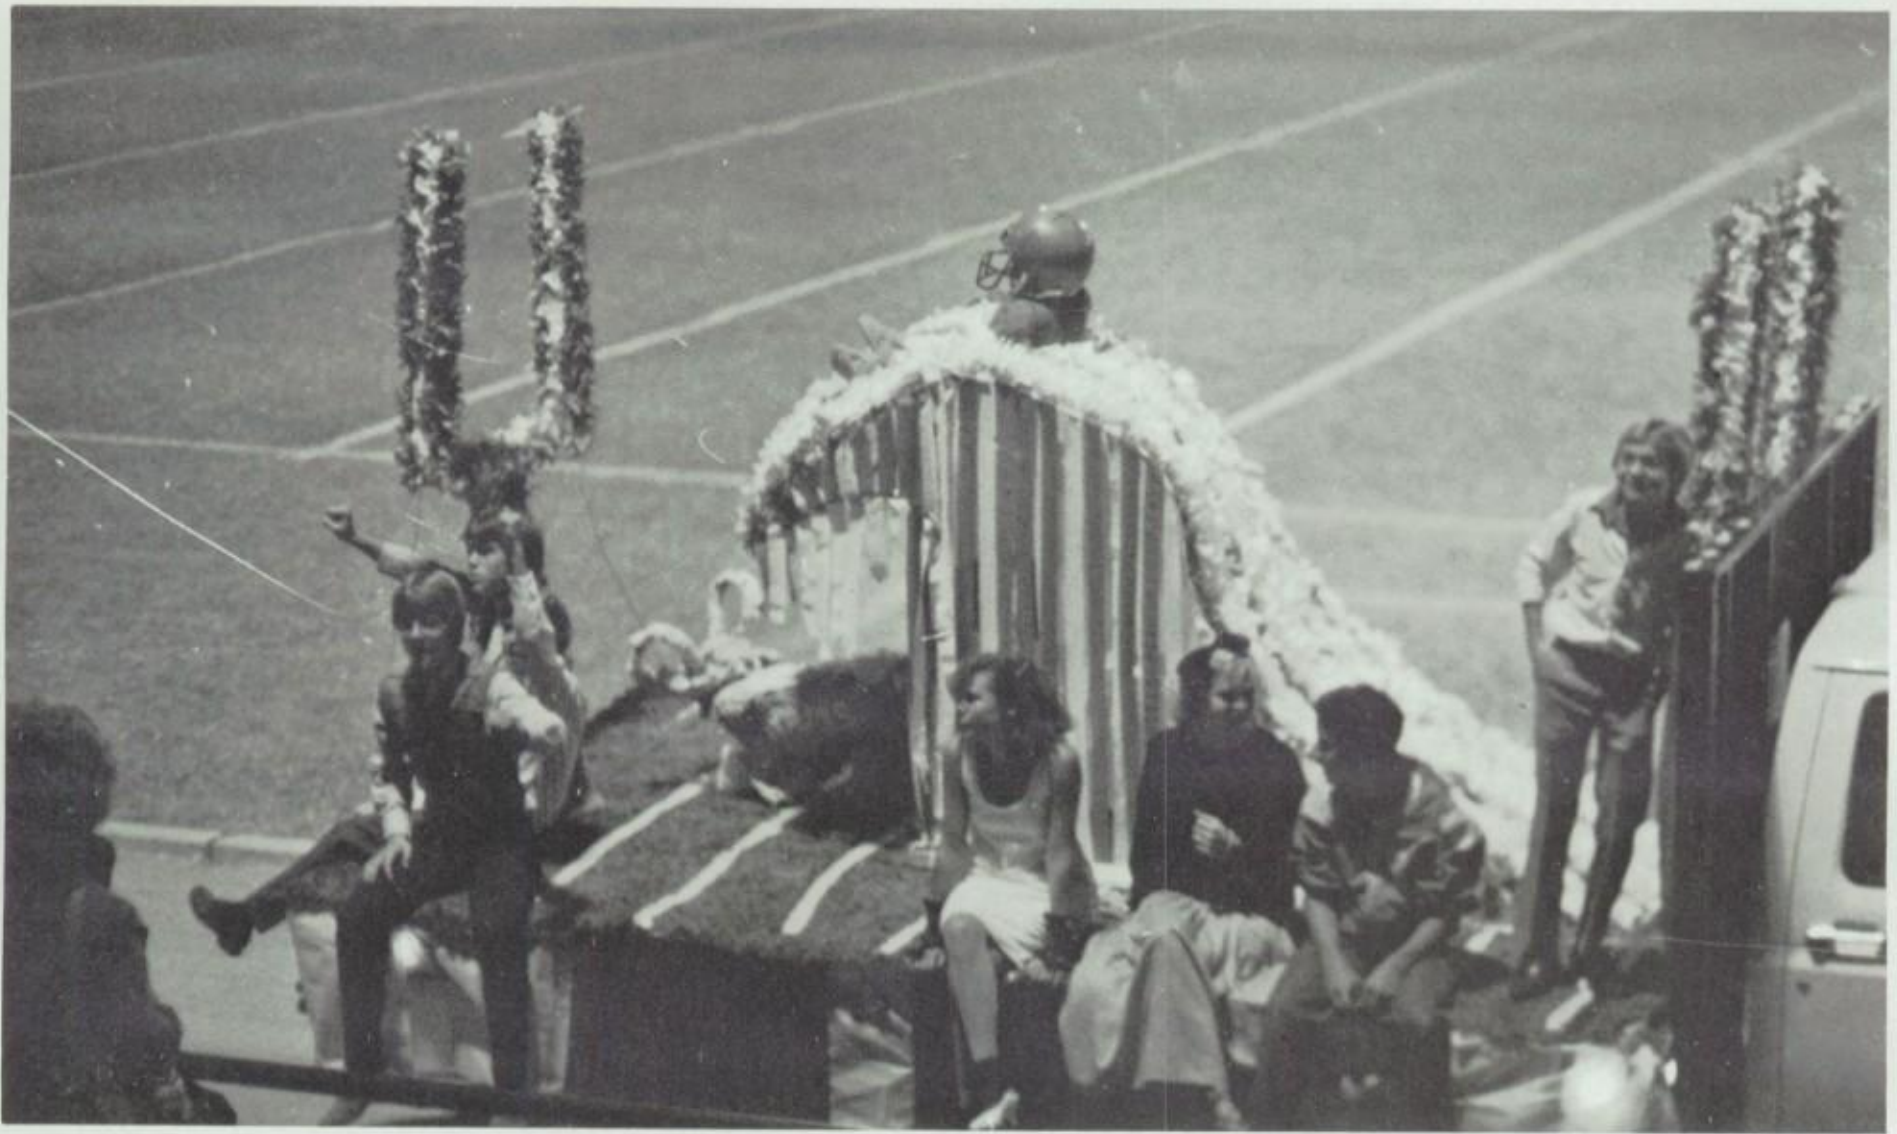

After the royalty was announced, the band marched off the field playing the "Paradise Valley Fight Song." The floats were then presented. The Senior and VICA floats tied for first place. Seniors used an Hawaiian theme, "Here Today, Gone to Maui," and VICA's theme was "Excellence in Action." Third place was taken by the Sophomores with "The Coolest Class on Earth" and second place won by the Freshman float, "Red and White Wave." Juniors won fourth place with "Spring Fever."

As the floats left the field, the traditional Corvettes drove up to carry the Homecoming Royalty off the field.

The dance began immediately after the football game. A slide show of particular people and events was presented throughout the dance which lasted until midnight.

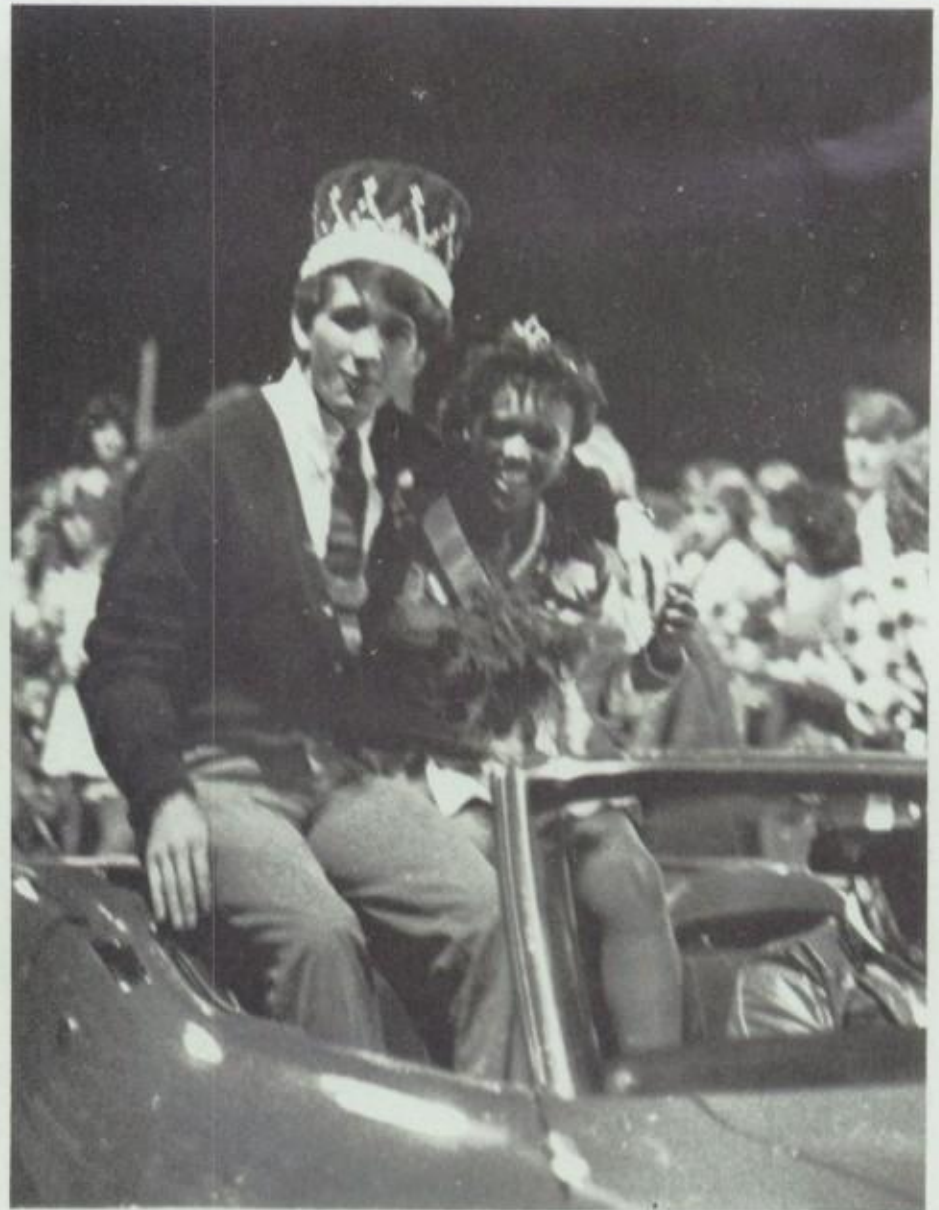

Mike Barnes relaxes on the sophomore float, "The Coolest Class on Earth."

Last year's royalty, Steve Price and Dawn Vargyas, return to present the new King and Queen their crowns.

The 1985 Sweetheart Royalty was crowned at the Sweetheart Dance Feb. 1.

The dance was sponsored by the sophomore class and cost $2.50 for admission. It followed PV's basketball victory over Cortez.

At half-time of the basketball game, nominees for Sweetheart Royalty were introduced and presented with flowers.

During the dance, a large aisle was formed for royalty and attendants. As the couples were announced, they walked down the aisle.

Prior to the week of the dance, nominees were chosen. On Jan. 29, voting took place in the cafeteria. This vote determined the class attendants and the new king and queen.

Freshman Attendants were Laurie Klaass and Bill Stout and Timi Deckwa and Rich Weissinger were voted Sophomore Attendants. Junior Attendants were Karrin Maturani and Darryl Van Alstine with Senior Attendants being Michelle Munsell and Paul Tenaglia. Tammy Italiano and Bobby Ludtka were crowned Sweetheart King and Queen.

Drama Presents "Plays of Our Lives"

"Plays of Our Lives" was the title of the fall play this year. It consisted of a series of three one act pieces written by Thornton Wilder, Robert Nail and Neil Simon.

"Infancy" written by Thornton Wilder was performed by Seniors Sheli Thomson and Paul Tracy. Junior cast members were Daryne Sanford and Leslie McCallom, and Sophomores Cindy Hopkins and Tim Wauchek.

Cindy Hopkins and Tim Wauchek played the babies Moe and Tommy on which the play was based. Sheli Thompson played Moe's mother who thought that Moe understood everything that she said. Daryne Sanford and Leslie McCallom played Tommy's nurse who was a romantic and Paul Tracy played the officer who had a fetish when it came to babies.

"Love Erant" starred Seniors Cortney Fortin and Martin Barringer as Ann and Jim, a high school couple on the verge of a breakup. Spirit Line heightens school spirit

The spirit and enthusiasm of Paradise Valley High School is brought out and supported by the dances and cheers of the Spirit Lines.

Two girls of this year's Spirit Line, Cindy Moore and Menchu Labayen, started off the season by going to Denver, Colorado, for camp during the summer to improve their skills. There they competed against about 750 girls (50 squads) and won one of the four spirit sticks.

The Spirit Lines developed their own routines which contributed to their success. "This year the Spirit Line ran more smoothly and was more organized since this year was the second time it has been at our school," said Mrs. Lee Moline, sponsor.

The Spirit Line had many fundraisers to pay for new uniforms, pom-poms and gloves. They sponsored the Halloween Dance, conducted clinics at middle schools to improve their cheerleading and pom skills, sold candles, entertainment books, suntan lotion and had many car washes.

Team Ends Season, 4-7

The varsity football team had several impressive victories this season. Cortez and Prescott, both playoff proven teams, were beaten by the much improved Trojans.

The team achieved many goals throughout the 1984 season. First they won more games than last year, 4. Second they will have many returning lettermen for next year. Last they had a freshman team that had a 9-1 record.

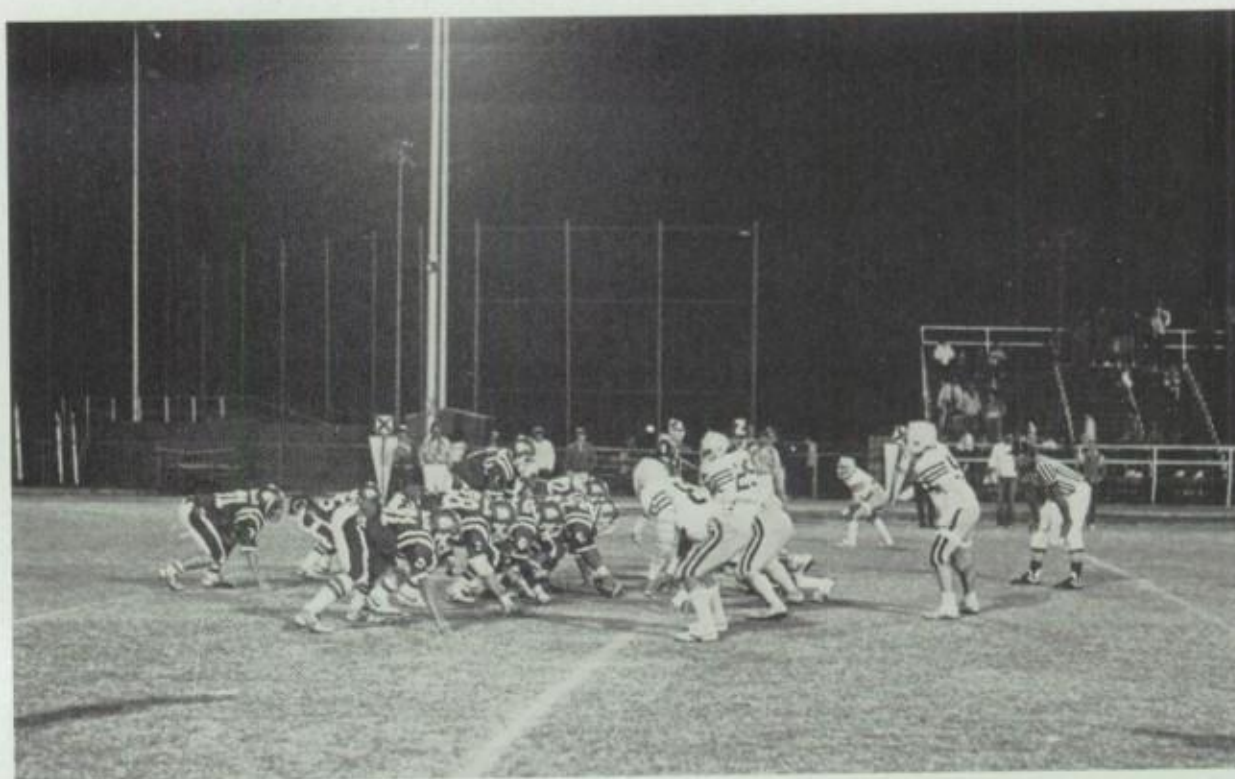

The season could have been much more productive if it hadn't been for injuries. One such injury problem was the quarterback problem. Joey Carter and Greg Stephenson were both injured against the tough Cortez Colts. Chris Norris, the third string quarterback, had to be put to the test. He proved very efficient in beating the playoff bound Colts. For the second year the playoff hopes for Cortez were ended by PV.

"I feel, all in all, we have had a building year. We now have a substantial base to work with," stated Head Coach Pat Lavin. "Only time will tell and it looks as though our time is soon. Our four victories were Arcadia 16-14, Shadow Mountain 21-10, Prescott 15-14 and Cortez 14-13."

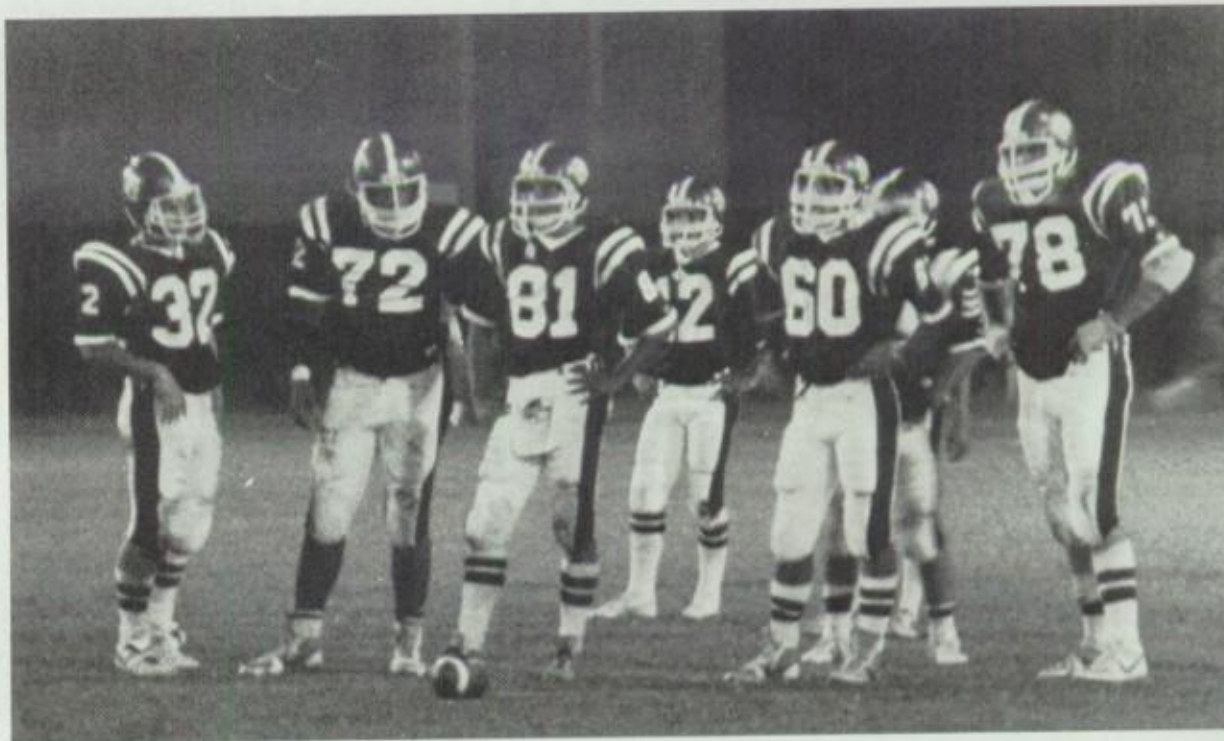

The Shadow Mountain game was the highlight of the season. The team was very excited and hyped which helped in a dramatic win over the stunned Matadors. PV also got the honor of bringing the trophy home. The trophy is given to the winning team annually.

season

The Freshman Football Team finished an outstanding season with a victory over Washington, making their record 7-1, the best record in ten years.

"We had hoped to go undefeated and came very close to that, but we are still very excited," said Pat Lindmark, head coach.

The Freshmen were impressive with their ability to come together as a team with tremendous confidence and pride. In two games they were behind in the fourth quarter and then came back with a scoring drive to win the game.

The team won its first game against Shadow Mountain (27-0) followed by wins against Greenway (17-6), Prescott (13-12), Thunderbird (24-0), Horizon (24-0), and Sunnyslope (21-14). The only defeat was against Cortez (11-14) which was followed by a win over Washington (33-0) to finish an almost perfect season.

After every victory, the team would gather in the center of the field to sing the fight song. At the assemblies after a win, the team would count off its winning score in a series of chants.

"The team was led vocally by Tony Pelopida and by example by Gregg Goss, Shane McCord, Tom Trier, and Victor Sierras," commented Coach Lindmark. "Our main goal was to establish a winning tradition because these freshmen will go on to be the nucleus of PV teams farther down the road."

This year's badminton team had two returning letterpersons. They were Laurie Alberti, Sophomore; and Chris Sarna, Junior.

The majority of the team was composed of Freshmen who did a remarkable job playing against girls with two or three years of experience.

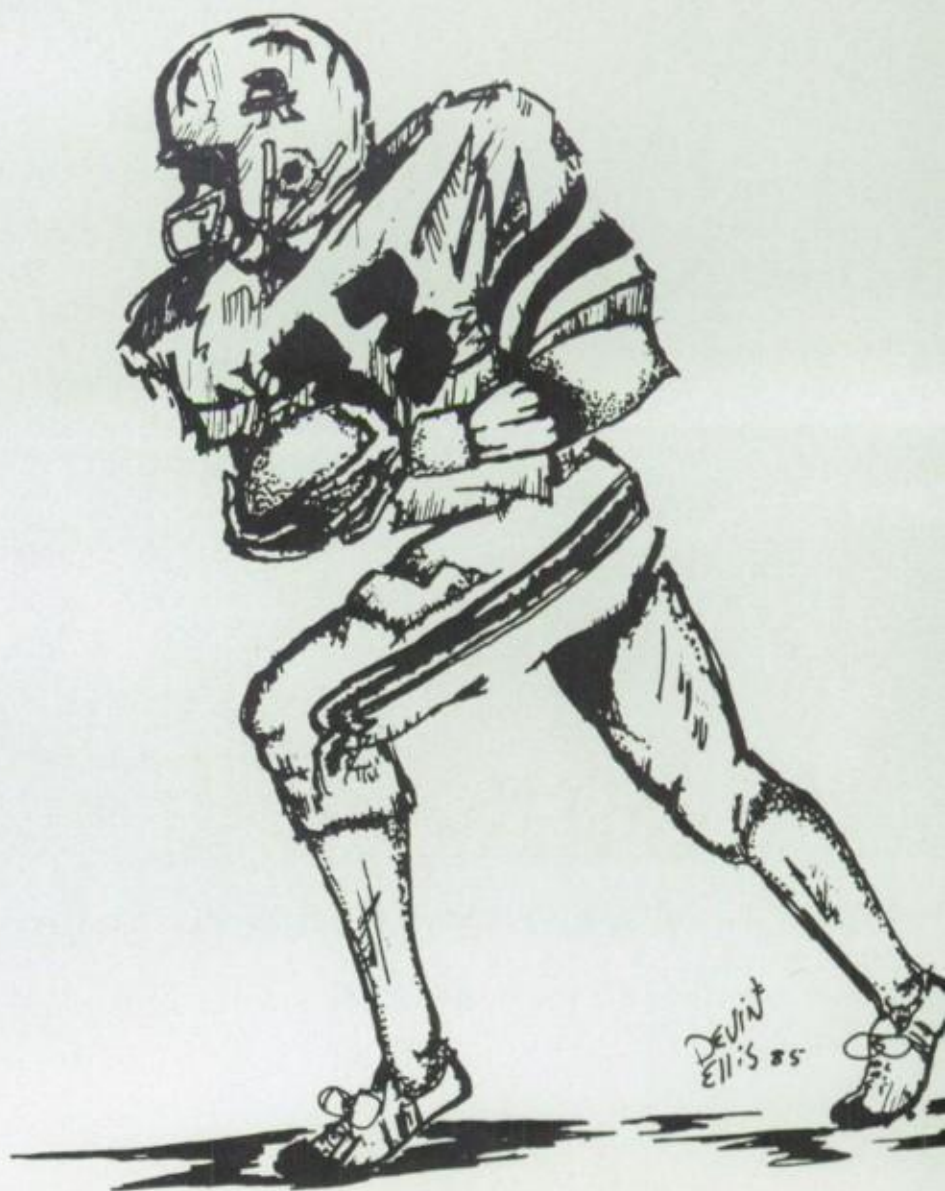

The team's high point was their outstanding win over Cortez. The team won eight out of nine matches at this meet, according to Mrs. Flesner.

It should be an exceptional season next year with more returning players.

There were no overall Cross Country team wins this year, but individually members of the team did well.

Ernie Espinosa placed in the top five at the Cross Country meets. He made All Skyline Divisional Second Team and placed 14 in divisionals.

The season started August 21 and ended November 18.

The Boys' Cross Country team consisted of seven members who were Ernie Espinosa, Justin Pinnt, Paul Bond, Butch Lowery, Dominick Grajeda and Todd Grezelak.

The Girls' Cross Country team had five members who were Adella Trejo, Tabitha Weeks, Lisa Prescher, Amber Alexander and Toni Lewandowski.

Amber Alexander showed the most improvement coming from almost last position to tying with Tabitha Weeks for number one spot.

The Girls' Cross Country team beat Cortez at divisionals.

"With the drawbacks they had to face throughout the year, they continued to demonstrate positive attitudes and continuous effort," said Girls Cross Country coach Mrs. Kitty Newell.

The Paradise Valley girls' swim team had an encouraging year with the major improvement on individual times.

Micki Riep took sixth in divisionals and placed 16 in state. She improved her score from the beginning of the year almost 60 points.

The girls' swim team record this year was four wins against Apollo, Gilbert, Central and Gilbert, and eight losses. Most swim meets, however, were very close with many meets within one or two points.

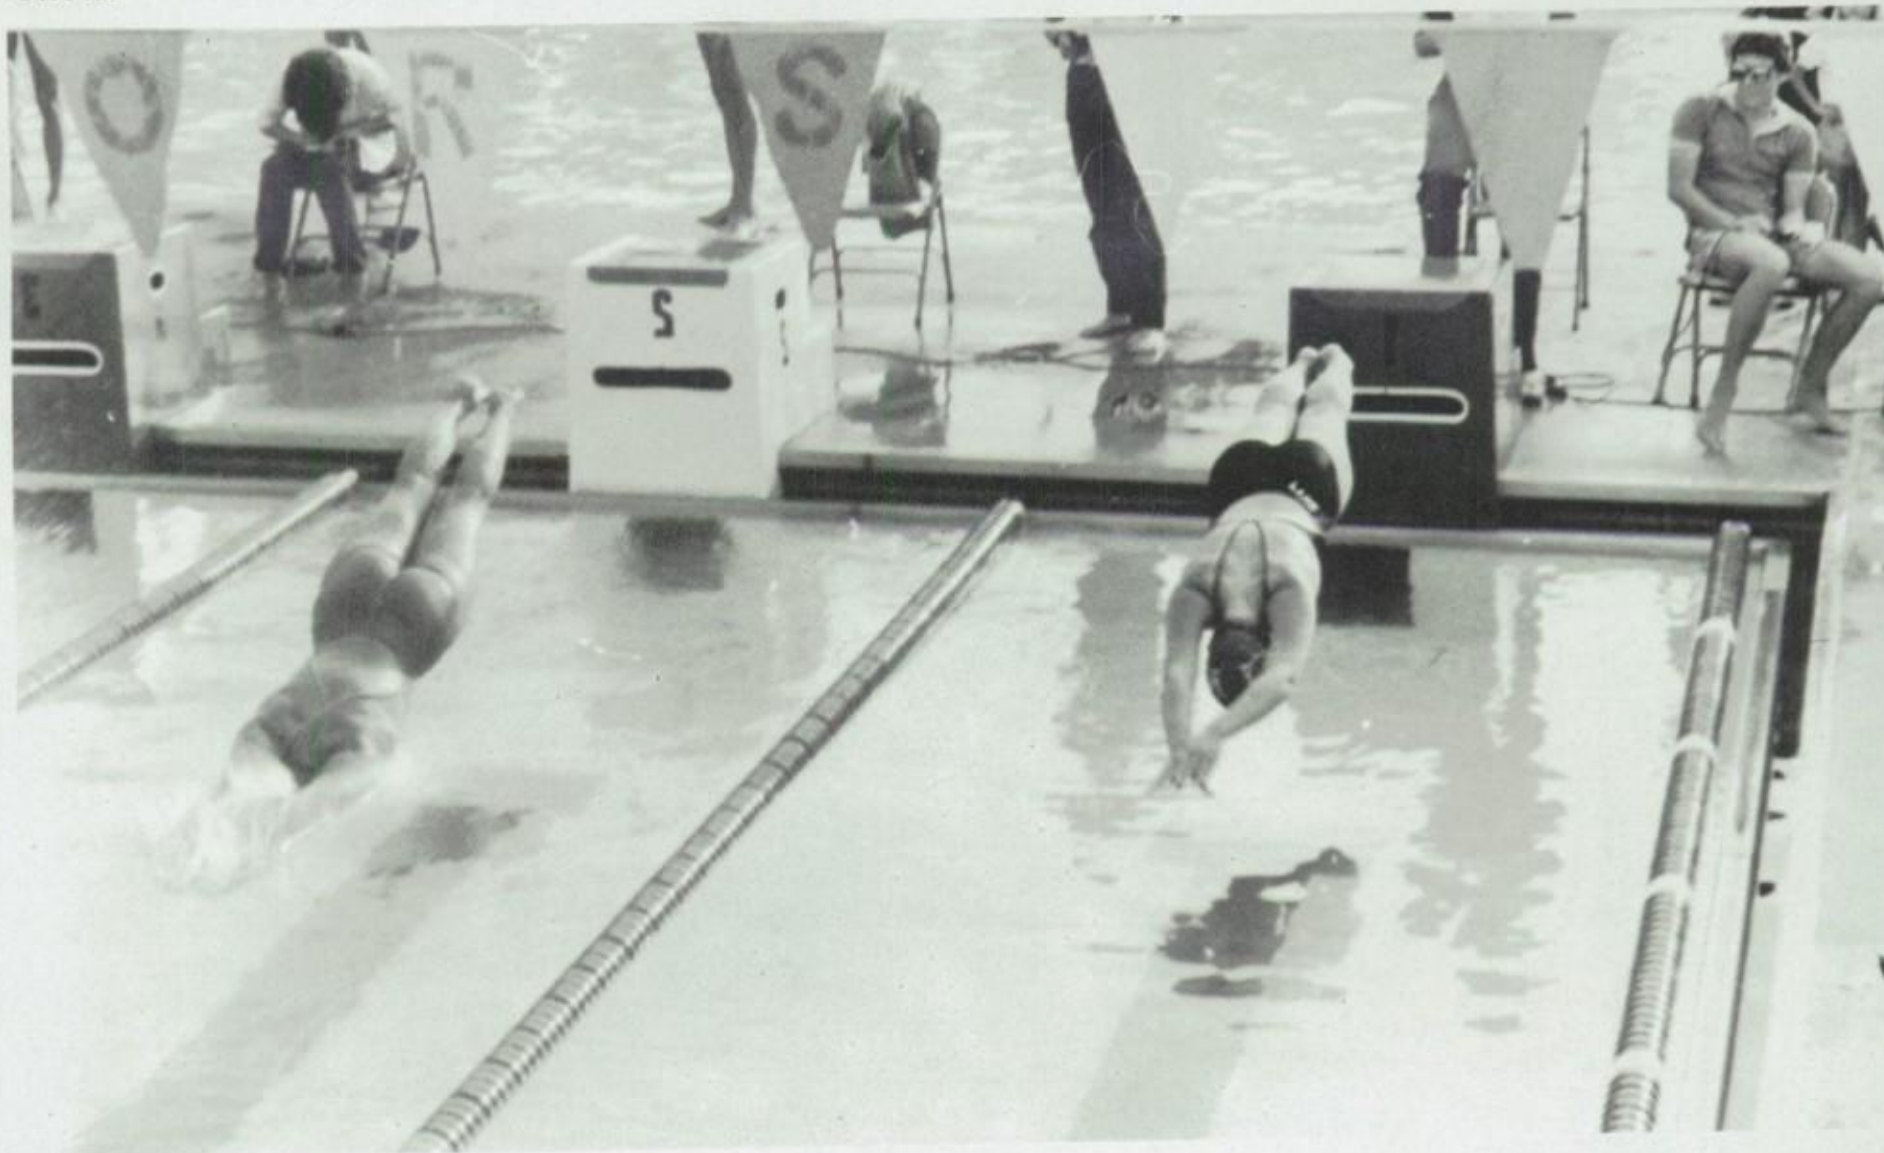

The girls who made divisionals this year were Brandee Owens, 200 free, 100 free, Christy Williams, 200 free, 500 free, Alejandrina Spencer, 50 and 100 free, Staci Jacques 50 free, and Susan Gunther 200 In, 100 back, Yesenia Spencer and Connie Schay were part of the relays and Cissy Douglas was in diving.

"Throughout the year lots of improvement was made. The team was unified, willing to work, and they wanted to get better," commented swim coach Mr. Wyck Chew.

Boys win 5 meets first year

This year's Boys' Swim team is a first for Paradise Valley.

The team consisted of 20 swimmers and they worked out six days a week and had meets once or twice a week at Roadrunner Pool.

"This year's team is doing great for a first year team. There was great improvement every day," said Coach Wyck Chew.

The determined team sent nine people to divisionals. They were Jeff Lime, Senior, 100m breaststroke; Mike Glover, senior, Diving; Gene Bowers, junior, 50m Freestyle; Bill Grundler, sophomore, 500m Freestyle, 200m Freestyle; Matt Gilbreath, sophomore, 200m Freestyle; Barney Neil, junior, 200m Freestyle; Vincent Gutwein, freshman, 500m Freestyle; Jeff Williams, junior, 200 IM; Kevin Murray, junior, 50m Freestyle; Wes Anderson, senior, 100m Butterfly, 200 IM.

The team in its first year ended this season with a 3 and 5 record beating Horizon once and Gilbert twice.

"It's certainly a positive addition to PVHS," Mr. Wyck Chew said, "Having guys on the swim team made it a lot more fun."

The Volleyball teams had a very successful year with a record of fourteen wins and eight losses for Varsity and six wins and six losses for JV which included going to the Skyline Divisionals at Cortez High School.

The Varsity team included ten girls while thirteen girls made up the JV team. They had strenuous workouts beginning two weeks before school started in the gym after school from 1 to 5:30 P.M. The teams did this in order to give themselves endurance, stamina, coordination and talent on their way to the top.

The Varsity team defeated St. Mary's, Greenway, Washington, Sunnyslope, Thunderbird, Deer Valley, North High and Central High.

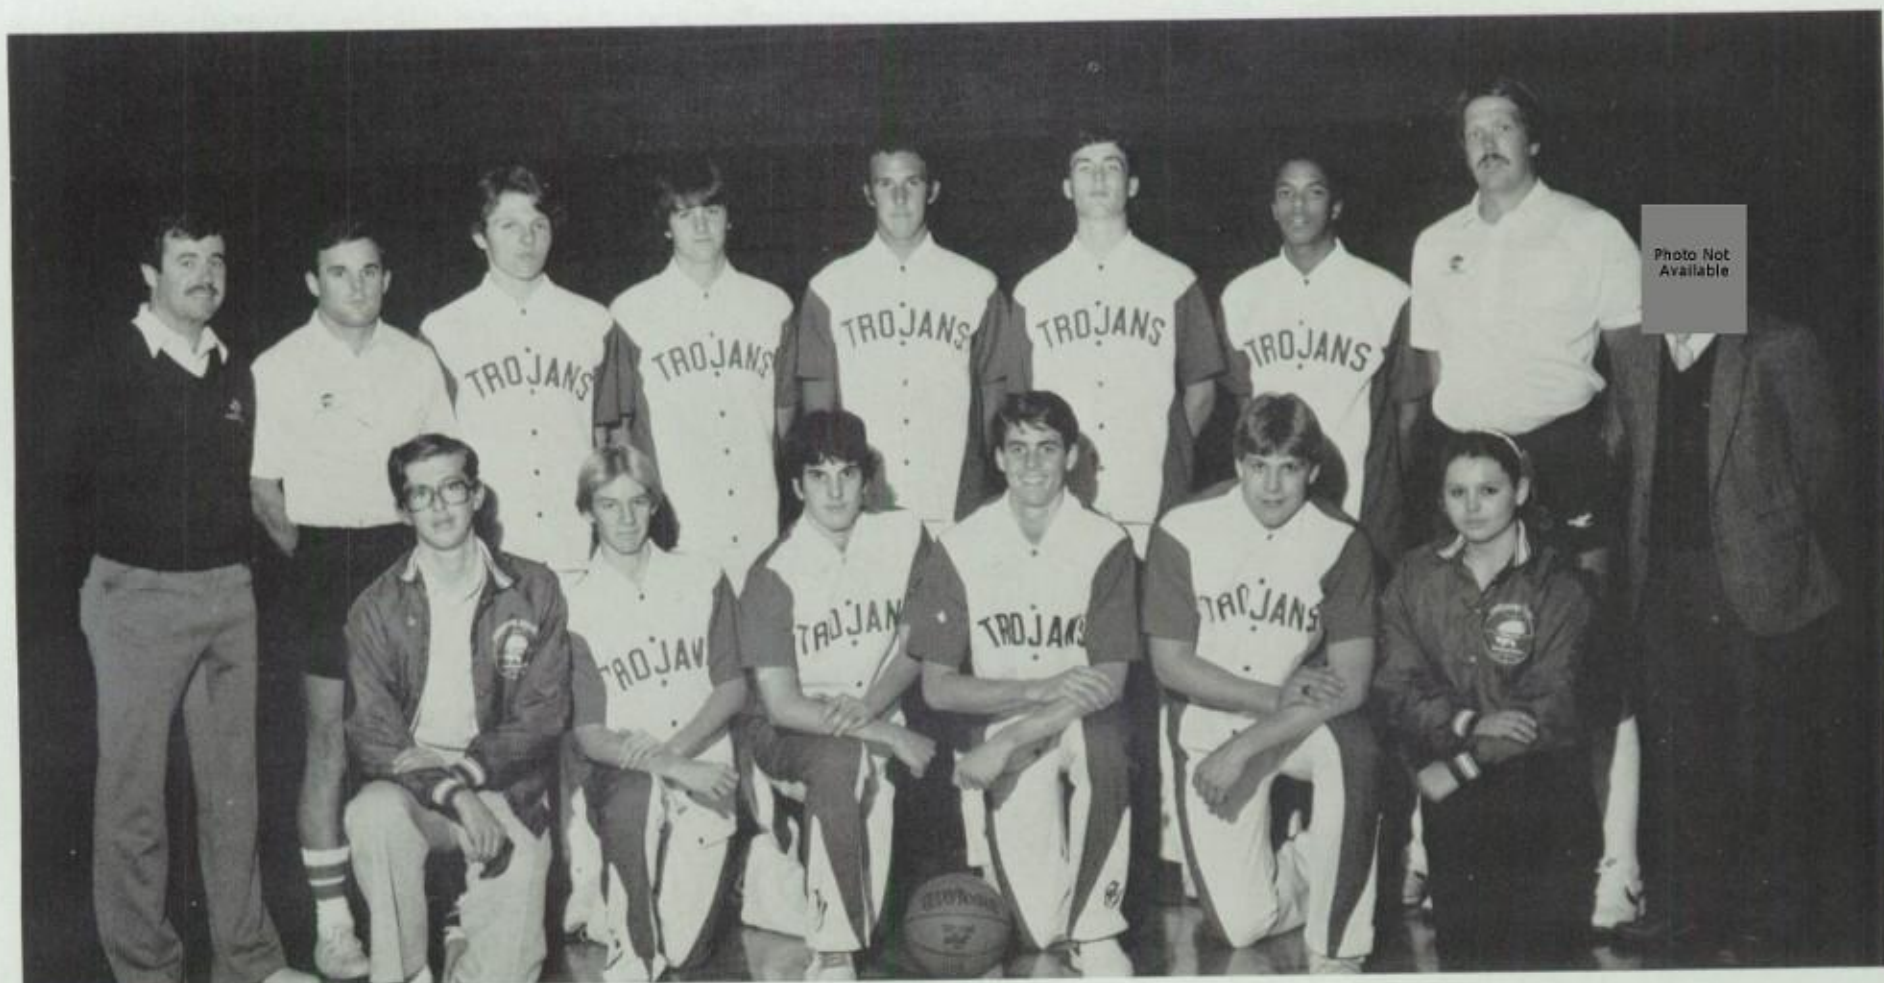

"The Varsity players started out inexperienced, but as the year progressed, they got better and more experienced. They worked out hard and they did it. This is the team I am most proud of," said Coach Terri Smith.

The volleyball team planned many fundraisers to raise enough money for their banquet, awards and an out of town trip. In October, the girls planned a rummage sale and a banana split eating contest at Dairy Queen.

Jeff Lime, senior, shoots a free throw against Washington.

The Varsity Basketball team was ranked second in Skyline B league and their final record was 9-3.

"It was a successful season because the players overall played up to or above their capabilities," said Coach Bill Farrell.

This success was led by seniors Carmine Lombardi, Tim O'Connor, and Jeff Lime. There was a record set by Jeff Lime, senior co-captain, which set the shooting percentage from the field, and the team record was set against Cortez, allowing them 28 points.

All of their hard work paid off because some of the players received honors. Jeff Lime and Tim O'Connor were voted All-League second team and Ron DaLessio, Angelo Accomazzo and Darryl Van Alstine were voted All-League Honorable Mention.

The Varsity Basketball team played some very close games. When they played Prescott, they beat them by two points twice; beat Greenway by one point once in overtime and the other in double overtime; and beat Thunderbird by one point.

"This year's basketball team played better during the latter half of league play and last year's team played better earlier in the year because this year's team is younger," said Coach Farrell.

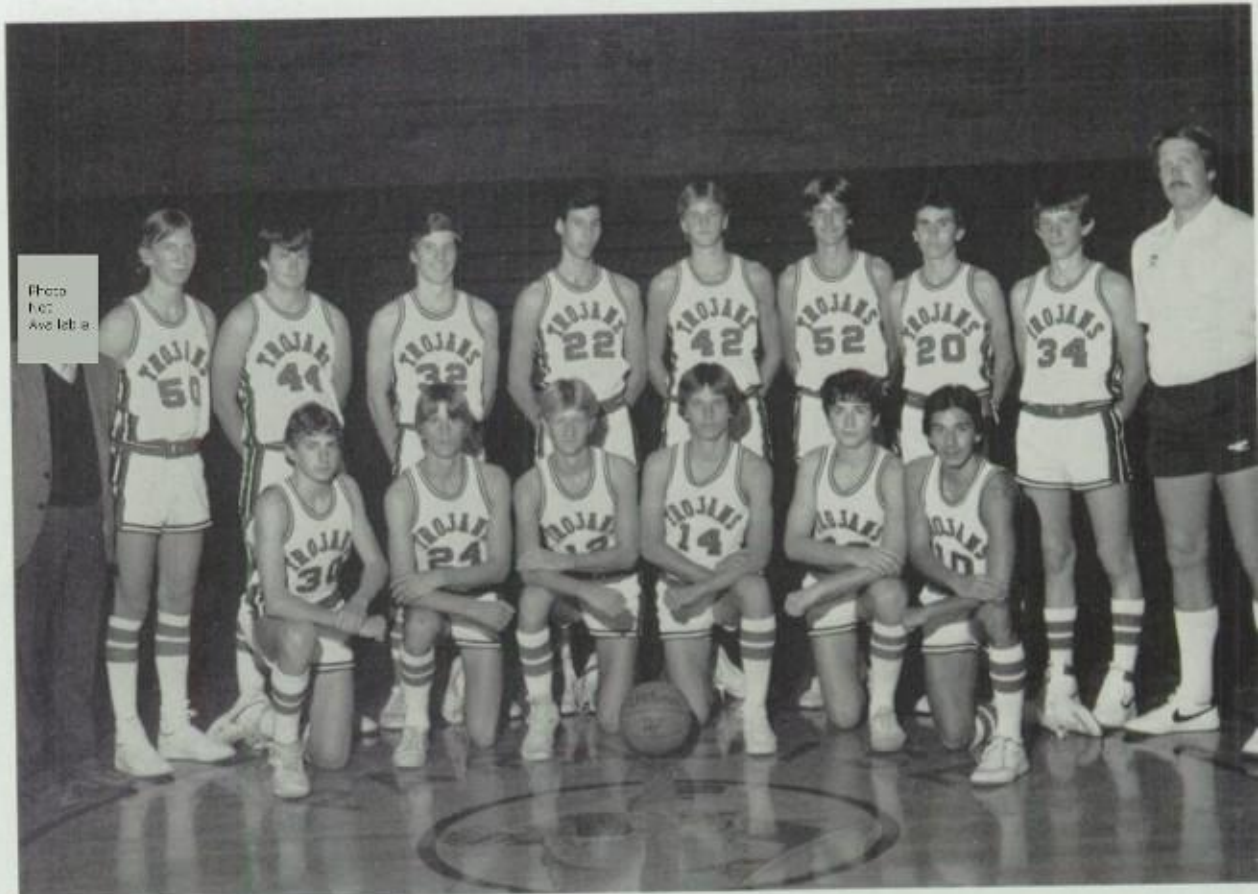

JV Basketball improves in strength

"The J.V. basketball team had a good season. With two new coaches, the team struggled at first but with excellent dedication from all the team members, the season proved to be far more successful than their five and seven league record would suggest," said

Led by dedicated young men, the team did well. Sophomores Mike McClaskey, Brian Stromblad, Craig Brown and Robbie Daggett moved up to a very successful varsity team for divisional play-offs. They with Junior Mike Korn and Sophomore Jeff Sounart and Mark Azbill contributed to defeating the league's top teams several times and held opponents quite often to fewer than 50 points.

This was mostly because of aggressive defense.

The Freshman Basketball team had a very exciting year. Though their record was 2-14, they were a very determined team.

Coach Farrell has created a program which encourages the development of sound fundamental basketball. The freshman coaches stick with that philosophy to develop young men who can then play ball on the JV and Varsity level.

"As coaches, we wanted to stress improvement, discipline and hard work. But we also stressed the importance of having fun playing ball as freshmen," said Freshman Coach Wyck Chew.

"We had kids playing who had never touched a basketball when they came out at the start. We worked on fundamentals the entire season and they came around 2,000%. Our two wins at the end of the season were more than we counted on," said Coach Chew.

Wrestlers qualify for State

The 1984-85 Varsity Wrestling team had a very successful year, receiving a Sportsmanship Award and qualifying seven wrestlers to go to the State Tournament.

The team had 9 wins with 5 losses. Wrestlers defeated Washington, Sunnyslope, Greenway, Deer Valley, Cortez and 4 teams, one in California, and 3 in Las Vegas. "I'm very pleased with the outcome, even though the team is very young," said Mr. Frank Grundler, Varsity Wrestling coach. Six sophomores were on the varsity team.

Mike Glover, Bobby Ludtka, and Doug Thomas, captains, along with Justin Pinnt, Wayne Weissinger, Bill Grundler, and Adrian Candelaria, which according to Coach Grundler, "make up the nucleus of the team," all qualified for the State Tournament. Wayne Weissinger, junior, placed fourth.

In December, the team attended the El Dorado Tournament in Las Vegas. Wayne Weissinger again gained victory, becoming a divisional champion.

Tim Wolff, Jack Stout, Ruben Ramirez, John McMullin, Bill Jeffrey, Gene Young, James Triguero, and Jason Singer, also members of the varsity team, helped a great deal, with their efforts and support to maintain the quality of PV's Varsity Wrestling team.

JV wrestlers develop self discipline

This year's JV team included a total of 15 wrestlers.

The JV team is considered as a Varsity B team by Coach Frank Grundler. The wrestlers on JV constantly challenge the Varsity wrestlers for their position.

The season started November 1 and lasted till mid February.

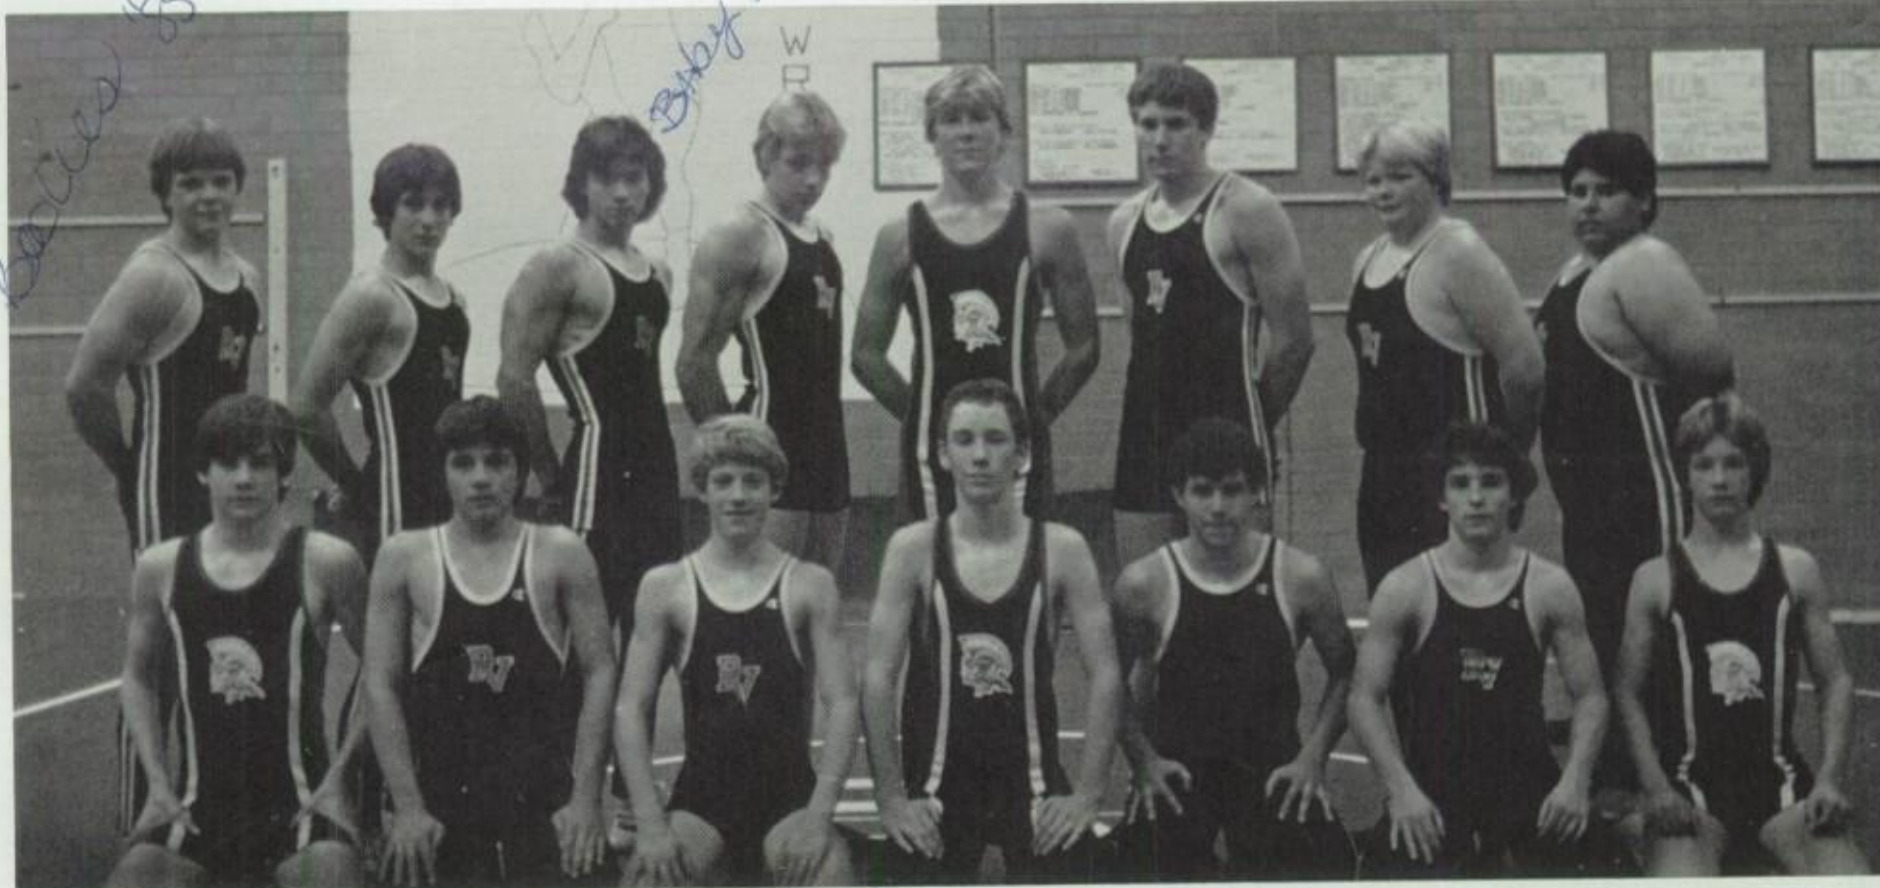

The seasonal record for JV was 4 wins and 6 losses. "More wrestlers in the upper weight division would help the seasonal record," said Coach Grundler.

Stuart Gibbs was this year's JV coach. Coach Gibbs was a former PV Graduate and now attends Phoenix college.

"Wrestling teaches a lot of self-discipline which could be helpful in later life," said Coach Grundler.

The Freshman wrestling team was small this year with only nine wrestlers. The team finished the season with three wins and seven losses. The team defeated Shadow Mountain, Washington and Sunnyslope.

Outstanding performances were given by Vinnie Gutwein, Bill Stout, Jeff Bruni, Tom Trier, Keith Wemstrom, Robert Bautista and Will Miller. These wrestlers all had better than a five hundred mark percentage. In addition Ed Paulson and Darrin Schenck gave success to the wrestlers who did compete. Mr. Grundler said, "We had a very aggressive, disciplined group of athletes who showed a desire to learn and improve their wrestling technique."

The freshman coach, Jesse Alexander, a former wrestler of PV, trained the wrestlers for their matches against our traditional rivals.

Softball receives 4 honors

The Paradise Valley Varsity Softball Team had a very successful 1984-85 season, gaining respect in the tough Skyline division.

The varsity team had many highlights this season. First they had a 9-5 record — the best record since 1976. They had three all league players, Lisa Martin, Kelly Rochwalik and Shelly Laws and one all League/all division player, Tina Smith. They also had three returning lettermen, Tammy Johnson, Sandra Romero and Kelly Rochwa-lik. PV's most impressive victory was a 12-2 victory over Shadow Mountain.

"I feel as if our team jelled together to form an impressive squad," stated Coach Terri Smith.

Tennis proves better than ever

"The 1985 boys' tennis team was better and stronger than ever before," said Jim Schonaerts, Head Coach.

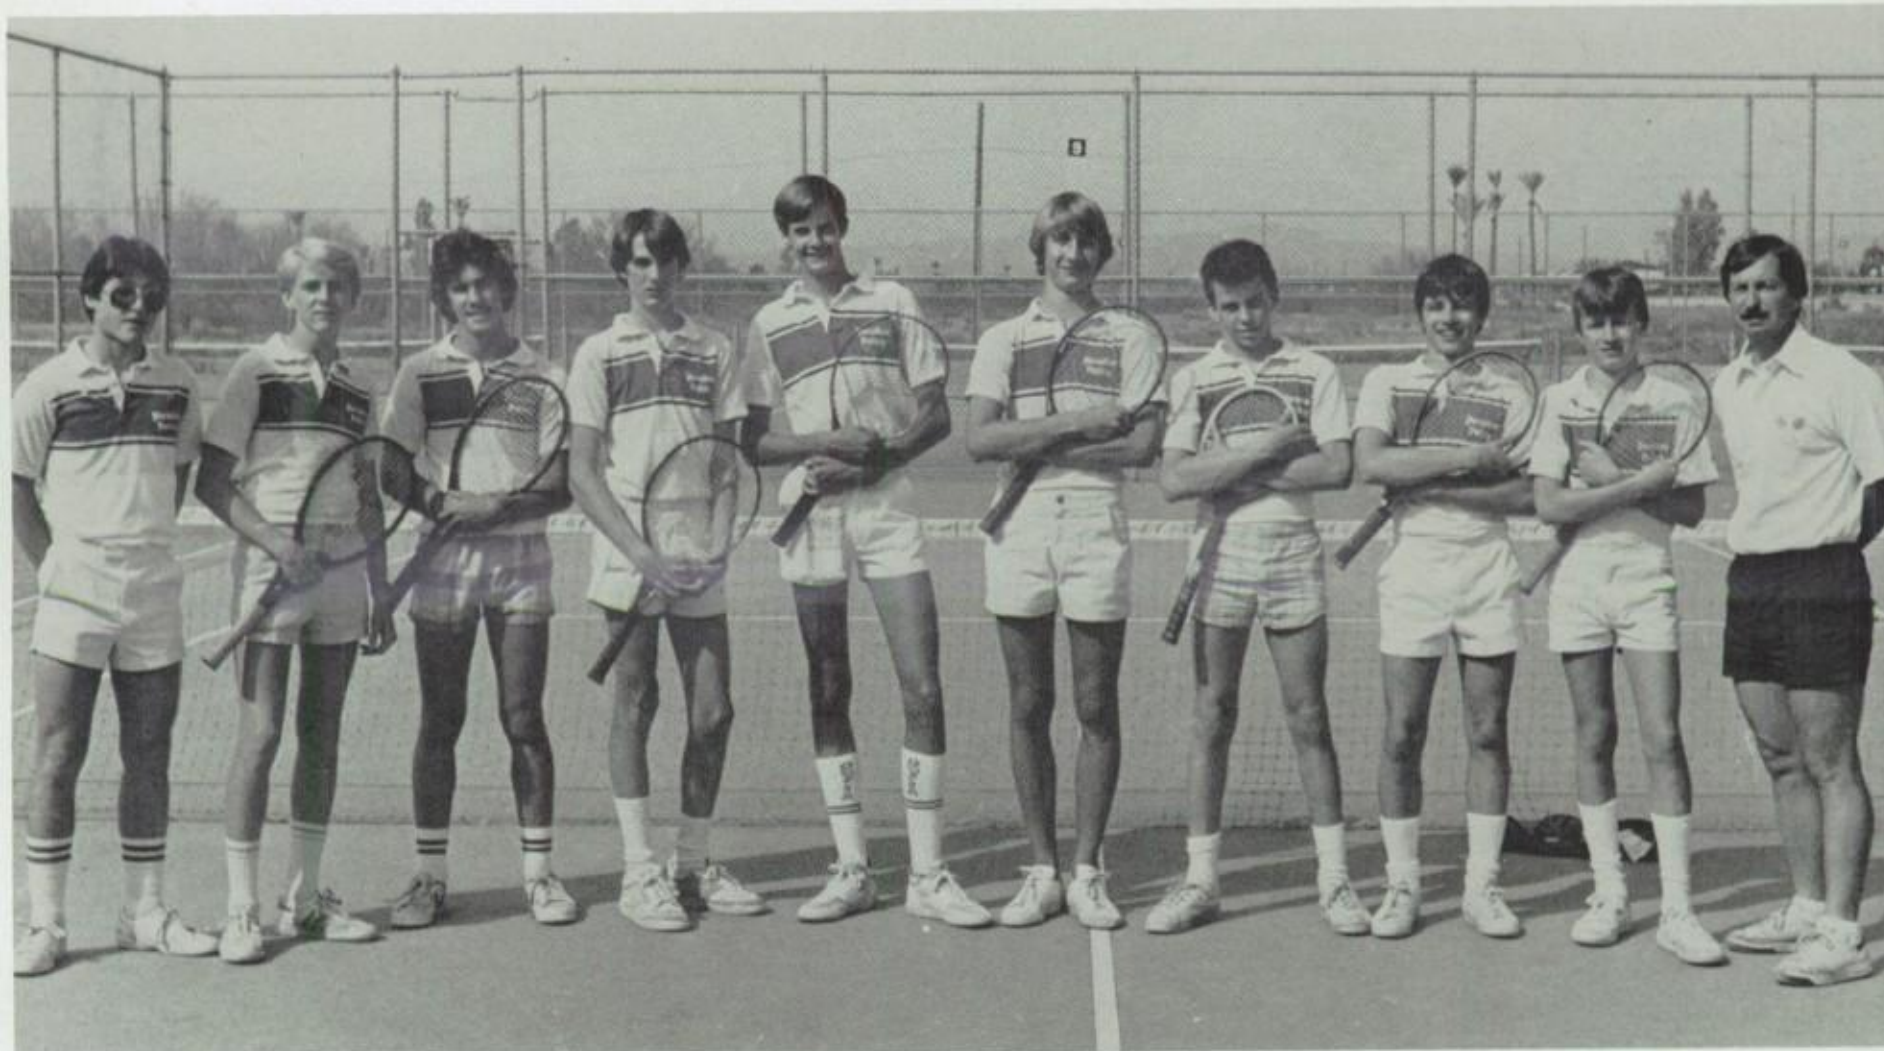

Coach Schonaerts worked very hard, developing skills and setting goals. "The main goal this year was for us to win at least 50% of our games," said Coach Schonaerts.

The team was very young this year, but they developed into a stronger and better team. "We had the strongest team in 5 years and the largest team in 10 years. Each year we get better," commented Coach Schonaerts.

"A lot of the credit goes to Brian Singer, for he is a 3 year letterman and he had provided a lot of leadership for the other players," he said.

Girls' Tennis improves skills

The 1985 girls' tennis team improved greatly this year over last year.

The team, coached by Jim Paa-janen, worked very hard improving skills such as the forehand swing, the back hand swing and their serving.

"I feel the team was very strong even though we were such a young team. If we had had more upper classmen, I think we would have done better," commented Beth Moch, sophomore.

Girls' track competes at NAU

The 1984-85 girls' track team started the season with a loss to Prescott. Victories were won by Liz Odom in the 100 meter hurdles and 300 meter hurdles and Lisa Prescher in the 400 meter sprint on the Varsity level and Eilleen Mincey, in 400 meter sprint, Laurie Klaass, in discus, and the 400 x 4 relay team of Mincey, Jaques, Trejo, and Lewandowski.

Even though the team was larger than it had been in past years, Coach Pat Lindmark felt his team was well balanced with a variety of people in each event. Even though the team was balanced, it excelled in dual meets rather than in invitationals because the team was so young.

This year there were only three returning lettermen. They were junior Tammy Johnson in the shot put and discus, sophomores Liz Odom in the hurdles and Lisa Prescher in the sprints. The lettermen lead the team in spirit and showed the younger team members the ropes.

The coaching staff of Mr. Pat Lavin, sprints, Mr. Matt Clark, distance, Mrs. Bobbi Howard, high jump and hurdles, Miss Terri Smith, shot put, and Mr. Dave Webber, discus, helped to pull the team through a trying year.

Boys' track breaks old records

The 1984-85 boys' track team, with 3 returning lettermen, had an exciting season. The season was highlighted by several large meets.

The first major meet was Peaks Invitational held in Flagstaff. Outstanding performances were by Kurt Johnson in the pole vault, Doug Thomas in the shot put, Darryl Van Alstine in the 300 meter dash, Saul Carrasco in the 800 meter run, and the 4 x 400 relay team of Van Alstine, Carrasco, Luukkonen and Neal.

This year PV had four people ranked in State. They were Kurt Johnson, Doug Thomas, Saul Carrasco and Darryl Van Alstine.

"Even with the ranked members of the team, we did not do as well in dual meets because of the numbers, but we had enough quality athletes so we did well in the relays and invitationals," commented Coach Larry Fultz.

The freshman team this year was a strong team with quality athletes. "It was the best crop of freshmen in a number of years!" said Coach Larry Fultz.

Basketball stresses conditioning

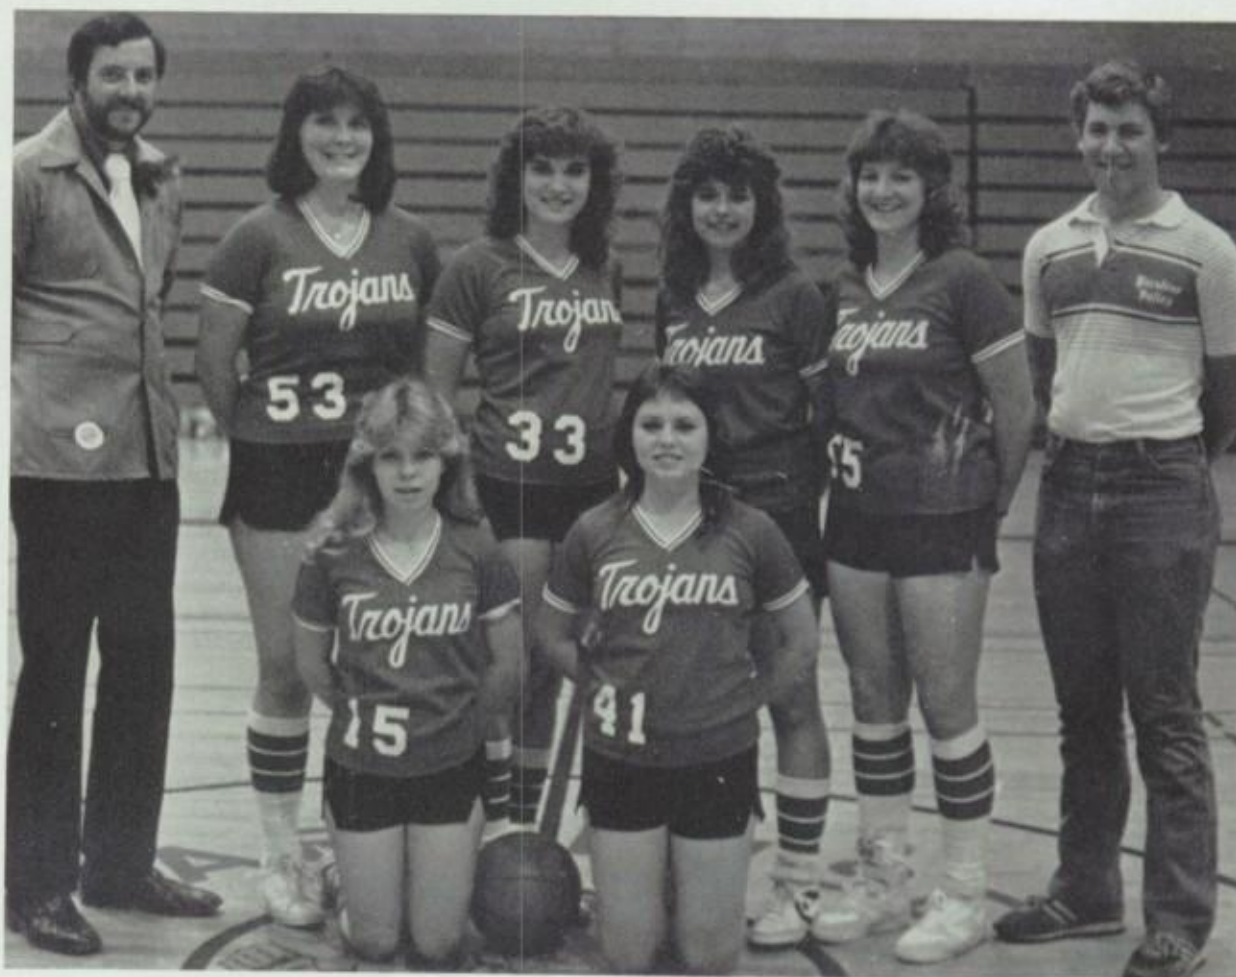

PV's girls' basketball team works very hard during practice on the basic fundamentals, defensive and offensive skills and getting into good condition each day.

The most important thing stressed on the team is the attitude and teamwork. Positive and friendly attitudes are what they're striving for. Stress on working together and helping each other is emphasized so that no one player is more important than the team and that they all work to become the best players they can be.

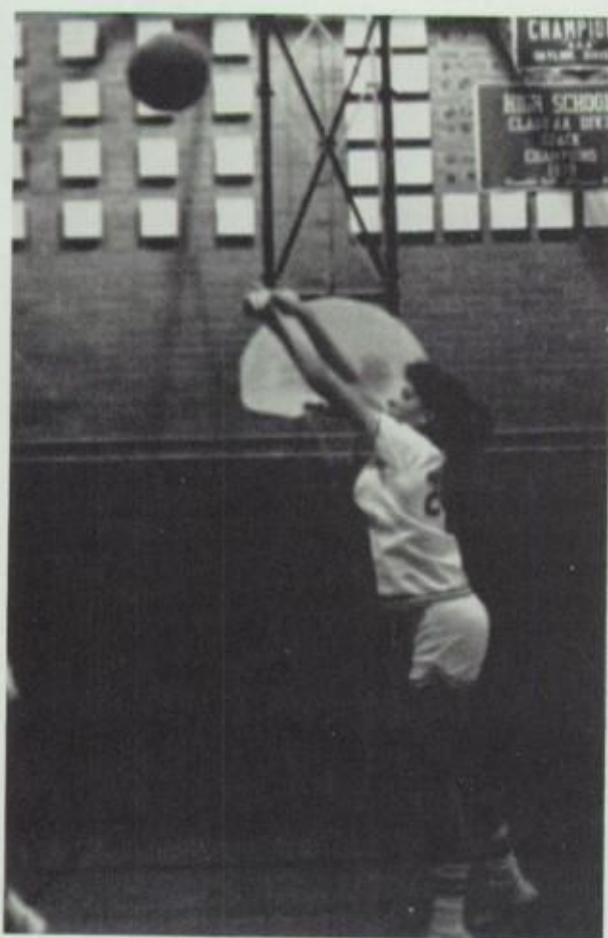

Most of the players last year have returned to Varsity with Dannita Stimson, senior, as the team captain.

There are several good freshmen out this year for the team. This is the first year in several that a freshman team has been formed.

"We hoped to be competitive and planned to improve each time we play. When we accomplish this, we'll be successful regardless of our record," said Coach Lee.

Varsity starts season with 2 wins

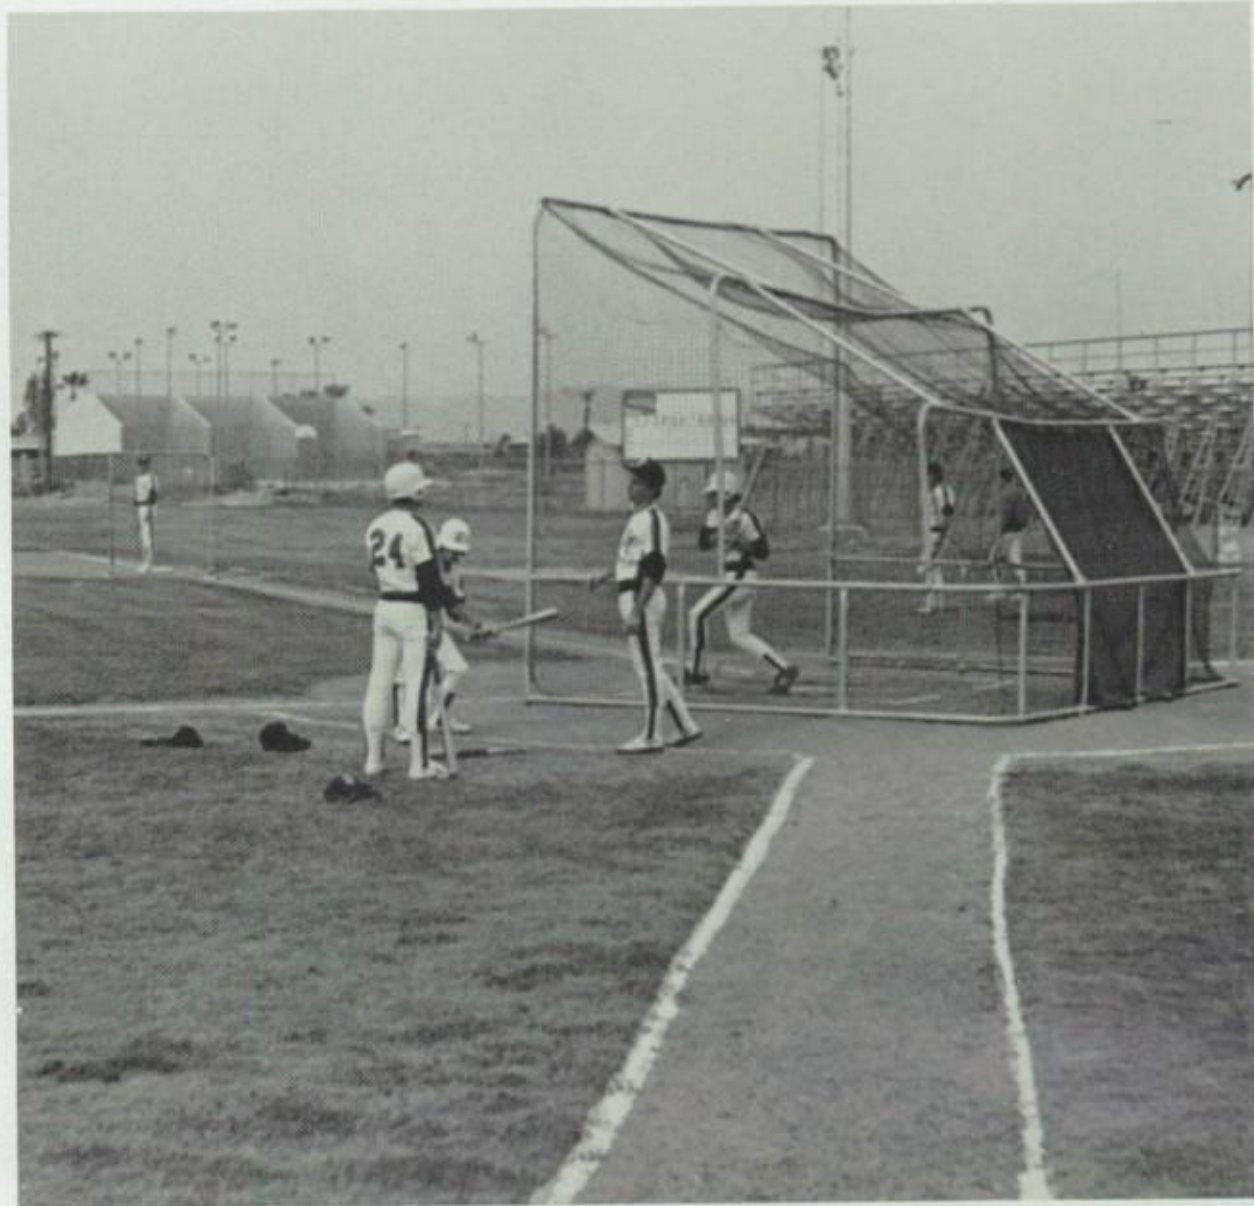

The Paradise Valley Varsity Baseball team began the 1985 season off right by beating a tough Carl Hayden team 7-2. Bruno Caffereli, Dean Fraulino and Rick Young led the hitting attack while Bobby Stapus, Kyle Scott-Duns, Rick Miller and Mike Miller combined on a three hitter.

The second game of the season was a very important game in playing the top ranked team in the Skyline division, Prescott. A very optimistic PV team went into the sixth inning leading 3-1. Starting pitcher Kyle Scott-Duns had a three hitter going, but Prescott hit the winning home run which gave Prescott a 5-3 victory.

The third game of the season was another cliff-hanger against Cortez. Starting pitcher Bobby Stapus did a fine job at the plate and the mound getting 2 hits while striking out 8 and giving up only three runs in 5½ innings. Rick Miller pitched the final inning giving PV a 5-4 victory. Mike Miller threw out a Colt runner at second base getting the final out.

PV had returning lettermen this season: Mike Miller, Bob Stapus, Kyle Scott-Duns, Bruno Caffereli, Tom Capaldo, Rick Miller, Dean Fraulino and Matt Baker.

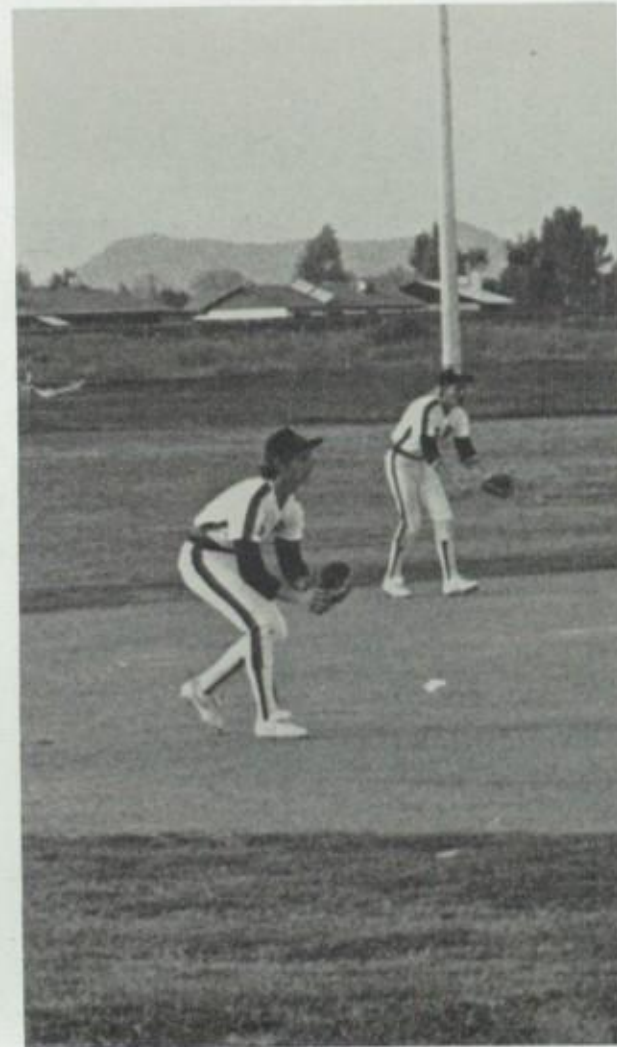

"We have a lot to prove this year and I felt we showed much improvement," stated Kyle Scott-Duns.

The Freshman baseball team's first two games were difficult but the team pulled through victorious with scores of 7 to 5 against Prescott and 6 to 5 against Cortez.

The starters for the games were Shane McLord, Ron Enringuez, Todd Zimmerman, Rene Carrasco and Ray Craver.

The freshman team played hard and rough, with high spiritedness against the two tough teams. The team worked hard on their skills to become better and stronger athletes.

The coaches of the freshman team were Mr. Wyck Chew and Coach Gary Carlson.

Mr. Wyck Chew said, "The kids who came out wanted to work and improve. I was excited to be part of this winning effort."

JV swings into season

JV baseball with 15 players out for the season was young and inexperienced at the beginning, but as the season progressed, their skills improved to make the season a good one.

Barnie Neil, Randy Norton, Mike McClaskey and Jerry Stevenson all had a fine season with showing the benefits of hard work.

During the season they played in the Skyline Division which consisted of Prescott and Glendale Union high schools.

"It was a young and inexperienced team but the season was promising," stated Coach Ray Figueroa.

CLUBS . . .

This year there was a big participation in organized activities. Along with their everyday classes, students had a chance to expand their interests and hobbies by joining clubs.

Participants in many clubs were able to go on conventions, trips and enjoy all types of fund raising activities.

Through these activities, many students fulfilled their school year and had more fun and personal involvement.

Yearbook preserves memorable moments

"Let's get rolling! We have deadlines to meet!" This was the familiar cry to the yearbook staff from Mrs. Phyllis Stanfield, adviser, and Brooke Steinberg and Patricia Douglas, editors.

The entire staff worked non-stop on copy, interviews and layouts. In between times, they worked getting to know people, exchanging jokes and cheering each other on.

The photographers were busy taking and developing pictures that were needed for the yearbook.

During the year, a few staff members attended two conventions. The fall convention was sponsored by Arizona Inter-scholastic Press Association and was at Central Arizona College, Coolidge. In the spring they attended the Journalism Education Association convention at Seattle. At the conventions, students attended classes that gave them information to help them produce a better publication.

"We put a lot of time and effort into the yearbook and we were just like a family," said Brooke.

For the first time in the history of Paradise Valley High School's newspaper, it is all done "in-house." That is, from start to finish, the production of the newspaper is all done at PV. That included the typesetting by the staff and the printing of the paper in the Graphic Arts Department.

"I feel it is a better paper this year because it is being printed at our school and we know the full process of the production of the paper," commented Karrin Maturani, business manager.

The newspaper changed size this year. "We decided we would rather have a news-magazine style than a newspaper to bring out more features rather than just news," stated Maryanne Autino, editor.

ICE took a trip to the snow to gather mistletoe and sell it. They used the funds to sponsor a family community service project which they hold all year.

The club ICE has three regional officers: Tiffani Haralson, Lee Potter, and Jay Karcher. These three students were elected on Oct. 19 in Tucson, AZ.

ICE gives on the job training above and beyond what High School offers. If one is interested in nursing, industry, cosmetology, woods, auto body, welding, electronics, drafting, graphic arts or commercial arts, ICE would be the club to look into.

ICE plays a big part in developing leadership, management and attitude.

Besides ICE, Vocational Industrial Clubs of America is a nationwide organization. This organization deals with vocational, technical and health oriented jobs. In order to join VICA, one has to be in a vocational, technical or health class, like ICE, HOE, Autobody or Auto Collision.

Medical Careers is a one hour block which is the first year of a program called Health Occupations Education at PV.

The second year, two hour block, HOE will be offered at PV next year.

In HOE one is placed in different departments of a hospital for three days a week for five weeks or more. There the student explores career opportunities and develops skills. Areas include surgery, nursing, pharmacy, social service, dental, physical therapy and equine veterinary.

HOE and Medical Careers are affiliates of VICA. Students participate in regional, state, and national leadership and skill conferences as well as running the club on a local level.

The Computer Club began the year with a fund raiser to raise money for a large monitor to be used in classrooms for demonstrations.

About 20 students are involved in the club, designing programs such as one that would keep teachers' grade books for them. The club also planned field trips to businesses that were related to computers such as IBM.

"The main goal this year was to do what we could to improve the computer equipment and to extend the knowledge of computer programming to the students especially in the area of team programming because it's something that cannot be done in classrooms and is very important," commented Mr. Paul Cornell, head sponsor of the club.

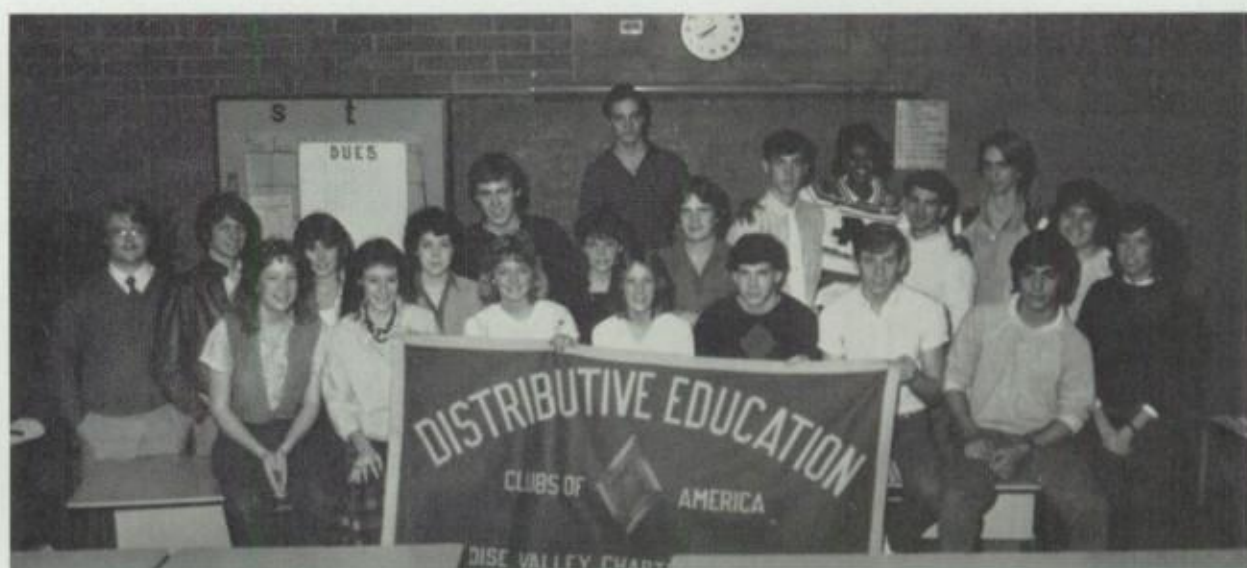

DECA takes firsts in conferences

The Paradise Valley chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America, DECA, was involved in many activities this year.

They were involved in a Toastmasters program. Toastmasters International is a nationwide club, designed to improve a person's speaking abilities. They went through a ten week program within the class. They finished the program by holding a banquet and inviting the administrators.

The club's highlights for the year were going to conferences. The Western Area conference was held at ASU Metrocenter on Feb. 13. Individual winners were Mike Schneider for Entrepreneurship, Scott Simon for Restaurant Management, Lance Bartholomew for restaurant Management, Bobby Zbrudzewski for General Marketing, Martin Barringer for General Merchandising, Ken O'Brian for finance and Credit, Kim Haugen for General Marketing, Judy Rich for Apparels and Accessories, Pam Cristiano for General Merchandising, Wendy Ludwig for Advertising, Duane Mantey for Service Station Management and Eric Hecht for Service Station Management. The state Career Development Conference was held March 20 through 22 at the Phoenix Hilton in downtown Phoenix. This conference gave members a chance to meet and compete against 1200 other DECA members. "The 1984-85 DECA chapter has proven to be hardworking, dedicated and ambitious. You are looking at the future leaders in marketing and distribution," said Miss Sue Rosenblatt, coordinator.

This year's officers were Scott Simon, President; Carol Burawa, Vice-President of fundraising; Shannon Collins, Vice-President of publicity; Judy Rich, Vice-President of activities; Toni Farmer, Secretary; Ken O'Brian, Treasurer; and Giovanni Cosetti, Historian.

Students gain from Home Ec.

Home Economics Related Occupations is more than just a class that helps students prepare for the future. It helps students to improve themselves, to gain respect, to become motivated and to get along with others. HERO Members held jobs in fashion retailing, food service, nursing, child care and the selling and preparation of floral bouquets.

Sponsoring many fundraisers was a responsibility for all HERO students. The major fundraisers were memopads and gifts galore which was a variety of different items. The money raised helped the students pay for the many conventions held throughout the year.

The fall convention was for HERO students to elect their state officers. Yulanda Brisker was nominated for State Senator but after a hard fought campaign did not win. The Vocational Officer Leadership Training Convention held in October taught officers of all different co-op groups how to organize their offices better. The spring convention was a competition among all different HERO chapters around the state.

HERO students really enjoyed the community work. In the fall, students ran in a Hike-a-thon to raise money for Cerebral Palsy. For Christmas, Hero sponsored a couple of families. At Christmas raising food and clothing to give the families showed HERO had responsibility and had learned what HERO was all about.

At the end of the year the club had an employee and employer appreciation banquet.

Miss Michele Frieswyk was the sponsor for the first semester of school. Miss Frieswyk left to move to California to be closer to her fiance. It was her first year teaching HERO.

The 1984-85 Thespians was one of the largest PV has ever seen. Besides being at its largest, it was also the busiest. Besides keeping busy with bagel sales and workshops, the Thespians found time to present two plays.

The first of the two plays was Plays of our Lives in the fall. In this, one could see how a person goes from infancy to adulthood.

The second play produced by the Thespians was Our Town, which was viewed in the spring.

"The drama club this year was very large and really one of the best we have had," said Mrs. Mary Irvin, sponsor of the Thespians. "It's been a great year!"

"A speech and drama club on campus allows for a touch of creativity in the students' academic pursuit," replied Miss Penny Scott, sponsor of this year's Trojan Speakers.

A touch of creativity was allotted many times throughout the year due to the fact that the club participated in several competitions throughout the year. At many of these competitions, the club received many honors.

With these honors came the hand work and much effort that it requires to achieve such excellency.

The Ad Club has worked on various projects this year such as the yearbook, newspaper, Student Handbook and the District Registration Guide under the supervision of Mrs. Lois Mahoney, sponsor.

Members worked on yearbook art work and the new nameplate for the newspaper. Students also contributed art work to publications such as the Literary Magazine.

Approximately 45 students joined the Ad Club this year. It was made up of a combination of Shadow Mountain, Horizon and Paradise Valley High School members. Many students are also involved in commercial arts classes.

Mrs. Lois Mahoney stated, "The experience students gain will help those students who choose a professional career of advertising or commercial art."

Skiers enjoy great winter season

The 1984-85 ski season proved to be an exciting one. Trips to Purgatory and Brianhead highlighted the season. Both were three day trips in late January and early March. The cost of the trips was $135 per person. 45 students went on each trip. The groups chartered Greyhound buses.

There were 50 students in the ski club. Many beginning skiers were helped by three experienced skiers, Mr. Kalbach, Mr. Johnson, and Mrs. Andro, sponsors.

"It was a great winter for skiing," said Mr. Johnson. "All the students had a wonderful time."

Students compete in Olympics

Four students from Paradise Valley School District competed in the Winter Special Olympics held in Flagstaff, Arizona on February 23 and 24.

Tristan Borba and Fay Kretchman, representing Paradise Valley High School, both won gold medals for the downhill skiing events.

A dance was held for all athletes on Sunday, February 24 after the games.

Ms. Judy Poel, District Adaptive Physical Education Specialist, accompanied the students to Flagstaff.

"The students were very excited to compete in the Olympics. It was a perfect experience for the students," stated Mrs. Laura Hunter, Special Education teacher.

Cooperative Office Education teaches students the responsibility of working in office related jobs doing secretarial work to filing.

Students go to school in the morning and they go to a job in an office related area in the afternoon. COE students receive 2 credits for the class.

COE students do more than just work. Getting involved in social activities is just as important as working. There were many social activities this year including a Pizza Party, Co-op Halloween party and a Christmas Party.

Fundraisers were also a major concern of COE. COE students needed to raise money for the Future Business Leaders of America Conference in Phoenix and Tucson. They raised the money by selling Fudge Hut, mugs and gift checks.

COE also participated in the Vocational Officer Leadership Training Convention during October. "The officers gained a lot of valuable experience," said Miss Sue Rosenblatt, COE coordinator.

The group closed their year with the annual Employer-Employee banquet. All the co-op groups from Paradise Valley, Shadow Mountain and Horizon got together at the Pointe for the district wide banquet.

Spanish Club plans Mexican trip

This year's Spanish Club started off the year by raising money for their yearly trip to Mexico.

The Spanish Club raised money by selling pennants, derby hats and having car washes.

"The Spanish Club has been working very hard for this trip. The students have an opportunity to mingle with the people and to speak the language," said Mr. Leonard Ortega, sponsor.

Every Tuesday at the meetings the class planned items to be sold and the coming trip. Daryn Sandford, last year's president, was elected again for this year's president.

"The German Club is a good opportunity to learn the German language and culture, handle responsibility and have fun at the same time," said Margie Cox, President of the German Club.

The German Club attended the Oktoberfest, a St. Nicklaus Day party, a German restaurant, a trip to Payson and planned for a trip to Germany next year.

In the Spring they planned a trip to Payson for a weekend. There they spoke German to one another and had a fun time.

For their fundraisers they sold decorative, reusable note tins, sold pins that said different phrases in German, and had a car wash to reach their future goal to go to Germany. "In the long run the German Club's ultimate goal is to go to Germany by saving up the money they get from fundraisers," said

Mr. Michael Blackwell, sponsor of the German Club.

In the beginning of December, the German students sent in for pen pals. The students were matched with someone with their own interests and hobbies. In this way the students, both here and in Germany, exchanged cultures and learned about each other.

Magazine expresses feelings

The main philosophy of the Literary Magazine is the changing ideas, images and thoughts of an individual before the moment passes.

The Literary Magazine is a collection of poems, short stories and artwork done by students to express their thoughts and feelings in an original way.

The editors of the Literary Magazine are Cheryl Azbill and Paul Tracy under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Murphy-Tick and Miss Patricia Schack. In addition to their writing and art contributions, they arrange the layout of the magazine.

The creative efforts of the students show their inner feelings and parts of themselves.

"I had a good crew. They're very supportive and hard-working," commented Miss Veronica Puglise, sponsor of the Stat girls.

This year Miss Veronica Puglise met with the 13 girls about once a week and at games throughout the basketball season.

"The stat girls are the little sisters of the team," replied Miss Veronica Puglise.

Besides being the little sisters, the stat girls also attend banquets with the team, keep stats and act as a cheering section.

This year, the stat girls made Christmas stockings for the Varsity and JV team. The freshmen received candy canes.

Stat girls, Wrestlerettes add spirit

This year there were more wrestlerettes than there have ever been before and they raised money for the wrestlers to go on tournaments by selling calendars and carnations, sponsoring a dance and selling Christmas candy-cane grams. The wrestlerettes also sold food in concession stands at the matches.

The wrestlerettes ran clocks during matches and cleaned up after the matches. They had much spirit to cheer on the wrestlers.

The wrestlerettes have new uniforms this year. They bought them and made the uniforms themselves.

Mrs. Beverly Lewis is the sponsor of this group and is a science teacher.

Close up

Close-up began the year by sponsoring the "Beach Party" dance to raise money for a trip to Washington D.C. April 14 through April 21.

The club, sponsored by Mrs. Jenny Smith-Stanford, raised money to send some students to the State Capital February 21. While they were there, they sat in on a committee meeting, they met the Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court, and Bob Corbin, the attorney general. On Friday they went to a banquet and Steve Benson was a guest speaker. After the banquet, they went to a dance. On Saturday the students went to an all day seminar-workshop. They had to choose 3 out of 8 workshops to attend.

The main event of the year for Close-up was the trip to Washington D.C. While there the students attended 12-15 different seminars, went on a night tour of Washington and had a free day of touring.

Chess Club

This year the Paradise Valley Chess Club was a social activity open to all students interested in games. The students played chess and other educational games every Thursday for an hour or two in Mr. VandenOever's room.

Sponsors Mr. Joe VandenOever and Mr. Sam Polvino showed students patterns and comparisons in various games, such as the use of probability with dice in backgammon.

"The club is designed to stimulate the logical process through games," according to Mr. VandenOever.

The club didn't go to any tournaments this year because of fees involved and membership. Membership fluxuated between four and sixteen students throughout the year as many were also involved in other activities.

Council becomes involved in community

Student Council is a group of individuals who have one main goal and that is to provide the Student Body and Community with activities to benefit all.

Student Council is divided into 5 classes made up of Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors. These classes work hard together and provide services for the school and community.

Each class sponsors its own activities. The seniors sponsored a blood drive and Christmas dance.

Juniors sponsored morp and Prom. Sweetheart dance was sponsored by Sophomores and the Freshman class sold class of '88 buttons.

As a whole Student Council worked in the Special and Kid Olympics. They set up booths, blew up balloons and worked extremely hard with the kids.

"It was a good experience working with the kids and it was fun," said Pam Cristiano.

Promoting spirit on campus was of major importance for Student Council. During football season they sold spirit ribbons and they also repainted the Ramada. Student Council also made posters for football and basketball games.

"Student Council was really fun and it was the best year since I've been in it. Everyone worked as a whole and it was really easy to get things done and a good group to work with," said Toni Farmer, Student Body President.

NHS tutors students

This year the National Honor Society inducted 18 new members in its annual induction and tutored students in courses.

The Annual induction was held Nov. 19 in the Media Center. Eighteen members, one senior and seventeen juniors, were welcomed into the National Honor Society. Many parents as well as administrators were present to watch the event.

This year National Honor Society members were available to tutor any student who wanted help in a class in which he was having trouble. Tutoring was done by a member who felt knowledgeable in the subject requested and had a free time to meet with the student convenient for them both.

"All in all, we had a productive year," said President Lori Joy.

Officers Michelle Wolcott, Wendy Ludewig, Nancy Ryan, and Chris Halderson were introduced during the induction.

Sandra Wilderman, Debbie Ross, Laura Drazkowski and Sheryl Azbill serve refreshments after the induction ceremony.

Human Relations plans mock wedding

After the weddings, the students enjoyed a reception which they prepared themselves.

Karen Everhart, junior, Bridesmaid, walks down the aisle.

Gail Lee, Junior, and Ralph Roberts, Senior, were married along with seniors Laura Hall and Eric Hecht in their Human Relations class.

Of course the wedding was mock with Mr. Ron Harten assuming the role as minister.

The Human Relations class, taught by Mrs. Marilyn Lambeth, planned the entire wedding and even investigated the cost of the ceremony, from catering all the way through the honeymoon.

Students made the wedding cake, decorated the room and donated anything that might be useful to the ceremony. The Jazz Band played the wedding march and also played at the reception.

The wedding was the high point of the semester for the students.

The second couple to take their vows were Eric Hecht, senior, and Laura Hall, senior.

Ralph Roberts, senior, and Gail Lee, junior, take their wedding vows in front of Mr. Ron Harten.

Band plays at Grand Openings

The Paradise Valley Symphonic band is the top performing group in the instrumental department.

There are about eighty students this year participating in this year's Symphonic Band.

"Each chair position of each student is auditioned for," said Paradise Valley Band Director Frank Malambri.

The Symphonic Band played this year at the grand opening of the new auditorium.

The band also raised money this year for various costs by selling cheese and sausage, Fudge Hut, chocolate Santas, and by sponsoring a car wash.

The Paradise Valley Marching Band started the year with new uniforms.

"At competition at Northern Arizona University the band received an excellent rating," said Paradise Valley Band Director Mr. Frank Malambri. There are about eighty people in the marching band this year. They played at the football games, Special Olympics, Paradise Hills Shopping Center, the grand opening of K-mart, and at the Camelback Inn for Motorola.

The Paradise Valley Marching Band raised money for their group by selling cheese and sausage, Fudge Hut, chocolate Santas, and a car wash.

Jazz performs at Suns game

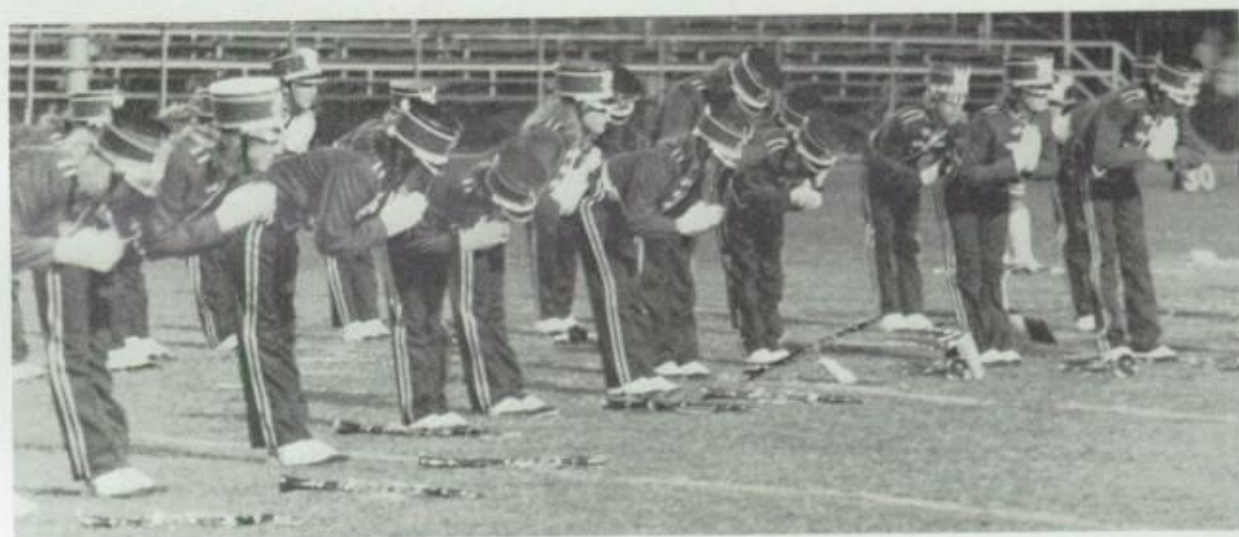

Thirty-one people were involved in Jazz band. The majority of the band was seniors. They have no tryouts but in order to perform in a concert, one must prove himself by knowledge of music, talent, skill and class participation.

During the school year, the band played at the Suns home game at the Colliseum, entered many state-wide competitions and had fund raisers such as the selling of Christmas ornaments.

Mr. Frank Malambri, Jazz instructor for the past several years said, "We have had the reputation of being the dominant band in Arizona and this year was no exception!"

Flagline competes

Flagline: Jennifer Coak, Kim Brown, Traci Gagliano, Vicki Prezzia and Valerie Carr.

The 1984-85 flagline enjoyed an exciting year by entering competition with the band and performing at football games.

Flagline went with the band to NAU for competition.

The flagline consisted of 5 girls who practiced on Wednesday nights with the band. They learned various routines which were used during half time of home football games.

Flagline is sponsored by Mr. Frank Malambri, the band director, and Mrs. Lee Moline, English teacher.

Choir moves into new building

One of the highpoints of this year for Choir was the move to new facilities, located by the auditorium, this year.

The major fundraiser of the year was the sausage and cheese sale during the first week of September to raise funds for their organization. The sale raised $1500.

Concerts began this year with a Fall Concert on Oct. 17. Choir put on a Christmas Concert on Dec. 19 for senior citizens. May 22 was their Spring Concert. Regional and Ensemble contest was Jan. 26.

Solos for the Fall Concert were done by Pam Griffith, Sheli Thomson, Lori Joy, Scott Underwood, Scott Kovacs, Denise Prince, and Chrissy Pasztor. Some soloists in the Christmas Concert were Debbie Rosenberger and Joell Ziede.

Chorus members were selected by audition to be members of the North Central Regional Chorus. These students were Lori Joy, Scott Kovacs, Scott Underwood, Vinnie Gutwein, Matt Gilbreth, and Treven Rollins.

Debbie Rosenberger, Tracie Russon and Sheli Thomson sing a song together at the Fall Concert.

Another year has just gone by, and The Trojan Triumphs met its deadline. We couldn't have done this without the help of many people.

Bruce Nelson, Tom Grover and Jim Updike from Updike studios deserve the most recognition. Without their patience, understanding and time, this yearbook would have many blank pages. We would like to thank the Scottsdale Progress for the news pictures they loaned us.

Tom Redmon, Karrin Maturani,

Richard Weisinger and Willie Anderson deserve thanks for the pictures they gave the staff. Many thanks go to the commercial Arts classes for submitting designs for the cover. Renee Waltersheid, Debbie Ross and Devin Ellis deserve a special thanks for the artwork they did for the book.

Thanks go to Jan Johnson, Herff Jones Yearbook representative, for her assistance.

Now to get to the inside work. Many thanks to The Trojan Triumphs Staff. Through all of our yelling, screaming, anxiety and deadlines they worked and put up with us. Our adviser, Mrs. Stanfield and her husband, Mr. Abraham Lincoln Stanfield, deserve a big round of thanks for putting their time and effort into this yearbook. They've also loaned us their house for meeting really late deadlines.

A final thanks goes to the staff and students of Paradise Valley High School without whom this book could not have been possible.

Brooke,

Thank you for the help you gave me this past year. Good luck after graduation in your chosen career. I have a feeling you will be a great success. Good luck! I would also like to thank my friends who put up with me this past year. Good luck to next year's staff. I would also like to thank Mrs. Stanfield for guiding me through the years.

Cissy Douglas

There are many people who have helped me through this yearbook. Patricia Douglas was a major help. If not for her patience and understanding, I would not have made it. Having joined the yearbook staff with no experience, Cissy helped me an awful lot. Thanks so very much for putting up with my nagging and complaining. WE DID GOOD!! Good luck next year.

Brian Black, you can't blame your mistakes next year on being a freshman. Anyway thanks for putting in all that extra time and effort and accepting all the extra work that I asked you to do for me. I really appreciate it.

To Mrs. Stanfield, one special lady. Her faith in me to do a good job really helped me get motivated in doing it. Thanks for taking me to Seattle with you and for lending us your house for the Insomnia-a-thon.

There are nameless people to thank, a list too long to mention. Most important though is the yearbook staff. It has been a most memorable year.

Brooke Steinberg

instead,
well, we've lived through another school year. I have to honestly say that there's no where as close as we were last year. I really don't know what happened. I guess both of us have just changed. I still value your friendship more than anything in the world. You're really the only one that I could ever consider my "Best Friend." I wish our friendship could be as strong as it has been in the past. I'm so afraid that when you come back from Florida we will have nothing left to our friendship. But maybe the time apart will make us realize just how special our friendships are to each other. I really hope we can work things out.

Have fun in Florida and write me all the time.

Love ya lots,

Cheryl

P.S. You'll always be my special one. Just like water.

Chris,

I'm really glad
I got to meet you in my Math Class.
You pretty nerdy
but very nice.

I hope everything goes well for you in the next 2 years at Sig-O P.V.! Good luck
w/ all the quips!

Chris,

I'm glad I got to meet you this year. You're a really sweet person. Maybe next year we'll be better friends. Have a good but safe summer. Stay out of trouble. See ya next year.

Hey Buddy. I am so glad we met this year. You are so very special to me and I will love you forever.
This has been the best year of my life and most of it is because of you. You brought happiness into my life and put a smile on my face. You picked to me up when I was feeling down and seemed to make all the problems just disappear. Our relationship and the times we shared together will always be with me and I will never forget that smile. You are new to me and I will never forget things words have worked out.
Dear to me and I will change & I just have to accept it. I want you to know that I will never forget you and hold a very special place in my heart with always will always love you & wish you the best of luck. I dare you, always
"85" John Patten

Christen, been one hell of a year!
 its been great (Wrestlers!) totally cool year! I'm really glad we got to be friends! You really was the best part of the year!! Getting to know keep in touch!!
 love you, babe!!

CHEERS,
 How ARE YOU ENJOYING
 I hope you had an extraordinary year. How DID you like BEING A WRESTLER? You BETTER
 BE ONE next year. I'm gonna need all the yelling and cheering I can get. Hope you'll make varsity next year. I should have no problem. I need someone to help me shoot for a place in state. I hope you have a good summer. Good luck with all the study guys! Don't turn too many clown.

Love ya

Chris! hey dude! We had the chance to meet this year and I'm so glad. I know we have had our problems but we came out okay! Hopefully our friendship will continue to grow into the lasting friendship that we should have. It's too bad that you will be gone most of the summer but when you get back we will get together K-doke. Keep smiling and continue to stay the same
